SOME STRIKING SEAMEN REACH WAGE TERMS

5 Per Cent Hike Settles Walkout of East, Gulf Coast Sailors.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 19—Negotiating committees for three maritime unions and 39 east and Gulf coast shippers reached an agreement early today for settlement of the shipping tieup on those coasts on the basis of a five per cent wage increase.

The settlement agreement, announced at 1:40 a. m. by John W Gibson, assistant secretary of labor, would benefit 110,000 seamen on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts if approved by the unions' memberships and by the shipowners.

On the west coast, Nathan Feinsinger, labor department troubleshooter, said that "undoubtedly the settlement on the east coast will be a factor to reckon with here, but just what its effect will be I canont say."

Special Meeting Called

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (CIO), said special membership meetings would be called later today for ratification of the agreement. Curran's union had led the move to embargo sailings upon the expiration of old contracts last Sunday midnight.

Present contracts of the National Maritime Union, the American Communications association and the Marine Engineers Beneficial association, all CIO affiliates, will be extended for one year with a wage re-opening date of Dec. 15, Gibson said. The old contracts had expired last Sunday midnight.

The labor department officials said that under the new agreement, which is subject to ratification by the union memberships, the seamen would receive overtime pay for nine holidays annually for work performed at sea or in port.

Latest word here from the Pacific coast, which also felt the effects of the embargo on sailings, was that negotiations still were in progress there.

The agreement here came after the NMU had reached a separate agreement with operators of tankers, also for a five per cent boost.

The tanker lines settlement affected 22,500 seamen.

Recommend Acceptance

Frank J. Taylor, chairman of the negotiating committee for 39 shipping firms and agents on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, said his committee "will recommend to their principals who have contractual relations with the National Maritime Union, the American Communications association and the National Marine Engineers Beneficial association, the prompt acceptance of this proposal made by the department of labor.

"It is of paramount importance to our national welfare and security that American merchant ships resume their operations as soon as possible. We hope that this proposal offered by the government representatives will be approved by all parties concerned so that this industry will have the peace it must have if our merchant marine is to endure."

Curran, whose NMU claims 60,000 men who work the dry cargo and passenger vessels involved in the new agreement, predicted the membership would ratify it. He expressed hope that "these gains would be put into effect for seaman of all unions in the interest of establishing stability in the industry during the coming year."

EX-LIQUOR OFFICER'S AUTOMOBILE BLASTED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 19—Mayor Thomas A. Burke ordered Safety Director William F. Smith to make a personal investigation of a bomb blast that wrecked the automobile of former state liquor enforcement Chief William Kelch early today.

Kelch's unoccupied car, parked in front of his house, was partially demolished and 126 windows in stores and buildings in the westside neighborhood smashed. Flying bits of metal splattered four homes.

Burke's order followed one issued by Smith that police demand a "full explanation" from Kelch for the blast.

"There's a reason for this bombing and I want to know it," said Smith. "We're going to get to the bottom of this. There's something very funny about it."

Kelch told police he had returned home late from seeing a movie and had just gotten into bed when the explosion shook the neighborhood at approximately 5 a. m. His wife and two daughters were in the house with him.

The former enforcement head, who recently resigned his state post and had sought to return to active duty as a sergeant with the Cleveland police force, said he had no idea who set off the

15 KILLED IN AIRLINER CRASH

22 Safe as Pan American Clipper Cracks Up in Syria.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 19—Fifteen persons of 37 aboard the Pan American world airways constellation eclipse were killed early today when the giant liner crashed at Meyadine, Syria, while trying to make a forced landing, the airline announced.

Eight of the dead were passengers. Seven were crew members. The remaining 22 passengers and crew members were described as safe although an earlier report said three were seriously injured and seven were less critically hurt.

Pan American said no other details of the crash, which occurred while the plane was en route from Karachi to Istanbul, were available here. Names of the dead passengers were not known immediately.

2 of Crew Safe

The company said information from its Damascus office was that the three crew members who survived were Purser Anthony Volpe, stewardess Jane Bray, both of New York, and third officer Eugene W. Roddenberry, of River Edge, N. J.

The other members of the crew, announced earlier by Pan-American and presumed to be those killed, were:

Capt. Joseph Hall Hart Jr., Greenwich, Conn.

First Officer Robert Stanley McCoy, Queens, N. Y.

Second officer (navigator) Howard Thompson, Queens, N. Y.

First Engineer Robert B. Donnelly, Queens, N. Y.

Second Engineer W. E. Morris, Brooklyn.

First Radio Officer Nelson C. Miles, Port Washington, N. Y.

Second Radio Officer Arthur O. Nelson, Brooklyn.

Enroute from India

The plane was en route from Karachi, India, to Istanbul when it crashed while trying to make a forced landing near Emyadine, Syria.

First reports of the crash led to fears that it was the clipper America, which left New York June 16 with a party of American publishers and officials aboard for the inaugural flight of Pan-American's commercial round-the-world service.

Capt. Hart, who was born April 10, 1907 in Norwood, Penn., set a world record in January 1945 when he completed 12 trips across the South Atlantic in 13 days and 15 hours. A graduate of the University of Cincinnati in 1930, he attended the Air Corps flying school until 1931. He became a captain in 1935 and a master pilot in 1941.

Bond Lost in Findlay Twister Sent to Owners

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., June 19—A war bond blown away when a tornado struck a trailer camp on the outskirts of Findlay early in May was recovered yesterday by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Max Frost of Findlay.

The bond was found by J. A. Schreiner, Seneca county farmer, on his farm near Bellevue, over 40 miles from the trailer camp. It was the second bond recovered by the Frosts. The first was found by a farmer 10 miles from Findlay.

Truman Studies Labor Decision

Sets Day Aside To Scan Conflicting Reports from Own Advisors.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—President Truman, confronted by sharply conflicting views within his own party, set today aside for his fateful decision on the Taft-Hartley labor bill.

While a majority of his advisers "guess" he will veto the measure tomorrow, some of his closest associates insisted they have no definite knowledge of what his action will be.

One of these, a daily confidant of the President, said privately that virtually all government officials concerned with labor matters are of the opinion that Mr. Truman should try to kill the bill.

Favor Veto

However, a survey of Democratic party leadership across the country—conducted by the Democratic national committee—showed a 103 to 66 division in favor of a veto, plus four recommendations that the measure be allowed to become law without signature.

A party official who disclosed results of the survey said national committee members and state chairmen and vice chairmen were asked to submit their "considered judgment" of the issue "without coloration."

The committee made the check on its own authority without instructions from the White House, the official said.

He added that the strongest

EISENHOWER SPURNS COLLEGE PRESIDENCY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—Maj. Gen. F. L. Parks said today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has been approached regarding the presidency of Columbia university, New York, but has no intention of quitting as army chief of staff this year.

Parks, who is chief of the army public information division, said the suggestion that Eisenhower consider the vacant university presidency, came from certain members of the board of trustees of Columbia, "but he is not in a position to discuss the matter at this time."

Eisenhower authorized Parks to issue the following statement:

"General Eisenhower has directed me to say that he has no intention of leaving his present assignment as chief of staff during the current year, and never without the full approval of the secretary of war and the President.

"In determining any future activity upon which he might embark at the conclusion of his duties as chief of staff, he would like to utilize his energies in something connected with public service of non-political nature.

"One suggestion he has received was from certain members of the board of trustees of Columbia university that he consider the presidency thereof, but he is not in a position to discuss the matter at this time.

"If and when General Eisenhower makes a commitment as to his future plans, an announcement will be made to the press. In any event, he will not consider any engagement effective until after his superiors have released him from his present duty."

Parks issued the statement after publication of reports that Eisenhower had resigned as army chief of staff to become head of Columbia next fall.

SENATE SEEN PASSING RENT BILL TODAY

Quick O.K. of House-Approved Curb Extension Predicted by Member.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19 — Senator Buck (R-Del) predicted senate passage today of a house-approved bill to extend rent controls for eight months and allow "permissive increases" up to 15 per cent.

Buck, floor manager of the legislation, planned to call it up after disposition of a wool bill which was the day's first order of business.

He said he saw no obstacles to approval since the measure in its present form—a compromise with the house—is "pretty much as it left the senate."

Eliminate Controls

The principal concession on the part of the senate conferees who helped work out the final version was elimination of government controls over commercial construction.

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), another of the senate conferees, has announced he will urge President Truman to veto it.

Buck told a reporter he hopes Mr. Truman will sign it because "there is no question that it is this or nothing."

Under present law controls expire June 30.

Buck said he does not know what features the President might object to, except possibly the so-called Hawkes amendment for permissive increases.

Under this provision, rental increases of up to 15 per cent are allowable if the landlord and tenant agree, prior to Dec. 31, on a lease which will be effective throughout 1948.

5 Other Provisions

The other major provisions of the compromise bill, which the house approved by a 163 to 73 standing vote on Tuesday, are:

1. Advisory boards in each of the nation's approximately 600 defense rental areas to recommend rent increases or lifting of controls entirely. The rent administrator would have 30 days to approve or disapprove.

2. Administration to be lodged in the office of housing expediter, which the house has ordered to start liquidating June 30.

3. Immediate lifting of controls on new housing, hotels, newly-rented dwellings and remodeled houses.

4. Evictions to be governed by state laws.

5. All construction controls except those over amusement and recreational building to be scrapped June 30.

NO SIGN, NO RENT CURBS, TAFT TELLS TRUMAN

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, June 19—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today that a presidential veto of the G.O.P. rent control bill will mean the end of federal controls on June 30.

Administration sources predicted that President Truman, faced with a "take it or leave it" situation, will sign the measure reluctantly and issue a blast at congress for its action.

Taft made it clear that in his opinion the Republican-controlled congress would not pass further rent legislation in this session if the President rejects the house-senate compromise scheduled to be sent to the White House today.

John McClain Here For Visit with Father

Special to The Star

John W. McClain has arrived from Hollywood, Calif. to spend a few days with his father, C. W. McClain of East Center street. From here he will go to New York City before returning to the west coast. Engaged in script writing in Hollywood Mr. McClain recently completed a screen adaptation of the stage show, "Song of Norway," which is to be produced in technicolor. Nationally known as a newspaper and radio writer, he served in World War II as a lieutenant commander, USNR, receiving a citation for meritorious achievement while serving with Navy Photographic Services.

Hospital Sends Out SOS Call In Acute Shortage of Nurses

The shortage of nurses is again being felt at the Marion City hospital and an SOS is being sent out today by Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, superintendent of nurses, to graduate and registered nurses not now on active duty to help tide the institution over the present emergency.

"Acute" is the word the hospital head uses to describe the situation, and she explains that with five more graduate or registered nurses the burden would be lifted appreciably. The present shortage is due, Miss Tinklepaugh says, to the vacation period and capacity use of the hospital. Nurses, like everyone else, are looking forward to vacations—which is only fair—but illness and disease seem not to take a vacation.

Part Time Acceptable

If nurses, now at home or those wishing not to be employed full time for the present, would help out for at least a part of the time, the work could be arranged so as to keep well staffed with graduate nurses at all times, Miss Tinklepaugh explains. The shortage is most acute in afternoon and night shifts, a check shows. Graduate nurses, though they are not registered, will be welcomed, Miss Tinklepaugh states.

At present the staff includes 16 registered staff nurses, four supervisors, one on each eight-hour shift and one operating room supervisor, and three graduate nurses who are not registered nurses. These, with the assistance of aides and heads of the institution, make up the nursing staff.

Seek To Keep Up Standard

"We are desirous of maintaining our nursing service at the present high level and this can only be done by having well qualified personnel," Miss Tinklepaugh emphasizes. "The old order on the nursing frontier is rapidly changing; new methods, new drugs and new techniques in treatment demand more and more professional women who are keenly aware of keeping the health of the nation up to a high standard. Thirty-five thousand to forty thousand nurses still are needed in the United States. We not only are urging all professional nurses to come forward in this crisis, but also are making every effort to interest eligible young women to enter schools of nursing. All of us rose to the occasion during the recent war, so all of us must rise to the occasion for the war against any menace toward the health of our nation now and in the future."

Nurses who are available for full time and part time employment especially during the summer vacation, are urged to contact the hospital immediately Miss Tinklepaugh states.

Russ Told To Get In or Out

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 19—France and Great Britain have given Russia until Monday to decide whether she wants to participate in a collective effort to put postwar Europe back on its economic feet with American help—or see continental reconstruction organized without the Soviet Union.

They sent a note to Moscow last night inviting Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to meet with French Foreign Minister Gorges Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin during the week of June 23 concerning steps to implement the European recovery plan suggested by U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

The note was dispatched after a two-day Bidault-Bevin meeting here at which, the two said in

RECEIPT LINKS MAN TO CHECK CHARGES

Man Accused of Forgery After Signing Name for Police.

Forgery charges were filed this morning against Allen Campbell, 37, who told police he had no home, after Campbell's signature was compared with one appearing on several bad checks which turned up Monday, police reported today. Campbell was arrested for the thirty-third time on June 14, police said, on an intoxication charge to which he pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

At that time Campbell signed a slip at police station as a receipt for property that had been removed when he was arrested. Monday police said, when four bad checks, all payable to Allen Campbell turned up, police compared the signatures and found the endorsements identical with the signed receipt.

The checks had been cashed at various Marion stores for amounts varying from $9.80 to $21.60, all were on the Fahey Bank and signed by E. O'Brion. Another check made out but not cashed was found at the post office police said.

Charges were filed this morning by I. C. Bean, manager of Alber's store on East Center street, where one of the checks had been cashed. Checks for these amounts were cashed at the following stores: Kroger Store on East Center, $21.50; Big Bear, $21.60; Kenney and Cooper, $9.60 and Alber's Super Market, $19.50.

Campbell has previously served two terms at the Mansfield reformatory and had just finished a 60-day sentence at the Columbus workhouse. Police said he will be arraigned yet today.

Rep. Jones of Lima Named To Communications Commission

By EARL RICHLEY

Associated Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19—Republican Robert Franklin Jones, congressman from Ohio's Fourth district, today was a nominee for membership on the federal communications commission.

President Truman named Jones yesterday to fill the seven-year term, and withdrew the recent renomination of Ray C. Wakefield.

Serving his third term in congress, the Lima, O., congressman will succeed Wakefield when the latter's term expires, June 30. There was no immediate explanation for the withdrawal of Wakefield's nomination.

Senate Majority Leader White (R-Me) said the withdrawal of Wakefield's nomination "came as a complete surprise to me." White heads the committee which handles nominations to the commission.

Critic of Democrats

Jones, sharp critic of the Democratic administration and a leader in the Republican economy program, said he would accept the appointment "gladly if I am confirmed." He is a member of the house appropriations committee and chairman of the subcommittee on interior appropriations.

At Columbus, Robert Jones, administrative assistant to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, said a special election might be called to fill the Fourth congressional district vacancy, if the senate confirms Rep. Jones' nomination.

Governor Herbert disclosed he would poll sentiment among party leaders of the Fourth district and pointed out he could call a special election to concide with next fall's regular election to save expenses.

But, the governor said, a primary election to name party candidates will have to be held.

As a member of the house appropriations committee, Jones locked horns many times with Harold Ickes over hydroelectric policies when Ickes was secretary of the interior. And he was the man who had most to do with this year's slash of funds for that department. He's chairman of an interior appropriations subcommittee.

Follows Party Line

Jones is a loyal Republican. He usually follows the party line at the capitol. He voted to override President Truman's veto of the tax bill. And he's ready to override a veto on the labor bill if there is one.

What Jones likes about the communications commission most is the job involves much legal work. He's an attorney and likes nothing better than handling law matters.

In fact, he never really liked being a congressman, and considered getting out every two years as election time rolled around. But friends back home in his Fourth Ohio district would not hear of it. They persuaded him to stay.

"I wanted to get back into law practice. That's my kind of job," Jones said.

Now 40 years old, Jones is one of those persons who gets ahead early. He was prosecuting attorney of Allen county, Ohio, when he was little more than a kid.

His wife is the former Ida Marie Spreen. They have two children, Robert Franklin Jr., and Geraldine.

Jones, obviously elated over his nomination, didn't comment.

"It wouldn't be proper to talk before I'm confirmed. And that is not sure, of course," Jones said.

The commission membership is divided among members of the two major political parties. The salary is $10,000 a year.

Jones will be missed in the house. The leadership leaned heavily on him in the campaign to slash government spending. He did a lot of work.

"And I'm looking forward to a lot more," he said.

He's well liked by Democrats as well as Republicans. He has the knack of fighting over issues without making his adversaries angry. Colleagues by the score congratulated him but they were sorry he was leaving. As one remarked:

"That Jones from Ohio is just a nice guy."

BABIES' SLAYER MAY BE "MAN IN WHITE"

By Knoch-Moore News Service

MASSILLON, June 19—A break was expected today as the identity of a mysterious "man in white" was being sought by investigating officials after two visitors to the Massillon City hospital said they saw him in the hall of the pediatric ward shortly before two babies were found dying in their cribs in the nursery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morton, parents of one of the babies, and Jack Wagner, Mrs. Morton's brother, arrived at the Massillon police station today and went immediately into Police Chief Stanley Switter's office by a side door. Stark County Prosecutor D. Deane McLaughlin, County Detective Harry W. Grossglaus and two Massillon policemen later joined the conference.

Mr. Morton and Mr. Wagner left the room at 10:45 and entered a room across the hall. Mrs. Morton remained in the chief's office.

The witnesses, Mrs. Robert J.

SOAP GUN BACKFIRES ON NEWARK ESCAPEE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 19 — A 19-year-old Newark, O., youth—one of six captured escapees from Mansfield reformatory—attempted to break out of a Franklin county jail today with a gun made of soap, a record clerk reported.

Record Clerk Robert I. Miles said James Allen Westlake was beaten into submission in an office adjoining the record room.

Miles said Westlake, held under $20,000 bond on two charges of robbery, was brought to the office after he sent word at 8 a. m. that he wanted to talk about a "job" he had committed in Indiana.

Westlake and two companion escapees were accused of a series of robberies and kidnapping in that state following their walkaway from the reformatory several weeks ago.

When Miles entered the office, Westlake tried to menace him with his hand in the pocket of

HELD TO GRAND JURY; BOND IS SET AT $5,000

Signs Statement Admitting He Started $90,000 Fire Maliciously.

Orval L. Blankenship, 23, of Marion confessed in a signed statement to city police this morning that he maliciously started the $90,000 fire that destroyed the Marion Plant Life Fertilizer Co. plant here May 16.

Police Captain E. C. Mackan quoted him as admitting he was disgruntled as a former employe of the plant. He had worked there from last April 13 to May 4.

In his statement Blankenship said he went to the plant and started the fire some time after 4 a. m. with pieces of asphalt siding torn from a nearby shed. When the fire failed to burn up briskly enough he said he threw a rock through a window to give it more draft.

After the fire was well under way, Blankenship said, he went to the Erie railroad tracks across West Center street from the fertilizer plant. He said he watched the blaze from this point until he heard the fire trucks coming. The alarm was turned into Central station at 4:33 a. m. by a night employe at the City Rapid Transit Co. bus barn which is directly across West Center street from the plant.

After the trucks arrived he said he walked east to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks and then made his way to Bucyrus.

An arson charge was filed against him this morning by Gayle H. Owens of Marion, first assistant state fire marshal.

Held to Grand Jury

When arraigned in municipal court shortly after he pleaded guilty and was bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bond.

In a half-hour questioning by Mackan yesterday afternoon Blankenship said he "probably set the fire" when he smoked after he entered the plant for a place to sleep.

Later in the afternoon Mackan called in Marion Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt and Owens, who recently was appointed first assistant state fire marshall. In subsequent questioning Blankenship admitted the story about sleeping in the building was "bunk" when questioners checked him on discrepancies in his story that the fire was in another part of the building from where he said he was sleeping.

Remacts Scene

Owens said he then admitted he started the fire "because he was sore" at a foreman and "wanted to burn him out of a job." After confessing his act was malicious he went with officers to the scene of the fire and explained in detail how he set the blaze.

Owens said he told them he entered the building about 2 a. m. on the morning of the fire, gaining entrance by tearing away a section of sheet iron siding. After failing to gain entrance to the office, which was separated from the plant by a partition, he spent some time inside the main structure.

Later he went outside and obtained the asphalt siding which was placed under the floor near the southwest corner of the building. He was quoted as saying he struck four or five matches in lighting the paper.

He then went to the Erie tracks to await developments. When the fire failed to burn rapidly he returned and threw the stone through the window.

Went To Bucyrus

After leaving the fire scene he walked to the Pennsylvania and route 23 intersection where he hitchhiked a ride to Bucyrus, arriving there about 7:30 a. m. In Bucyrus he went to the home of a brother.

On May 17, the day following the fire, he said he returned to Marion and went to the scene of the fire. Remarks he made to plant employes cast suspicion on him and the tip eventually reached police.

In the meantime he stayed in Marion. Police said he slept anywhere he could find shelter.

Police didn't have far to go to find the suspect when they first received the tip that he might have been involved, as he already was in county jail. He had been arrested on North Main street the night of June 13 and was sentenced to jail as a suspicious person. Police said he was "just wandering around" when arrested.

Last Nov. 26 Blankenship was fined $50 in municipal court on a larceny charge in connection with the theft of a quantity of sacks from the Marion Milling Co. He served out the fine in the county jail.

Although he was born and

NEW rat killer

It's a Dr. Hess product and it's called Anturat.

It's ideal for farm use because it's not dangerous to poultry, livestock, or pets if properly used.

It's more effective than squill against the Norway or common brown rat.

It's tasteless—the rats can't detect it in feed or other baits. It can be used as a tracking poison—rats walk in it, lick their feet, and die.

Kill costly and dangerous rats now with Anturat—we have Anturat in stock.

Union Grand Jury Returns Indictments

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, June 19—The Union county grand jury has returned eight indictments out of seven cases presented by Prosecutor William Coleman in a two-day session in which 27 witnesses were examined.

Indictments returned are: Edson Stansberry and Gilbert Douglas, grand larceny; Charles Hunt, uttering a check with intent to defraud; Henry Beach, armed robbery; Odell C. Hedick, grand larceny; operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and two counts of shooting with intent to kill; Edwin Douglas, operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent; Warren L. South, non-support and one secret indictment.

Golf, Luncheon Planned For Bucyrus Club Season

BUCYRUS, June 18 — Mrs. E. Blair Ruhl accepted the election as general chairman of women's activity at Bucyrus Country club when the women held their initial meeting of the season at the club Monday afternoon. Mrs. Ruhl will have as her assistant Mrs. Ralph Hilles.

Golf chairman will be Mrs. C. H. Blicke and Mrs. W. G. Carlisle will serve as bridge chairman. The club season opened today with a luncheon, the new officers acting as hostesses. Golf and a luncheon will be scheduled each Thursday, which has been designated as women's day at the club.

Marysville Plant Strike Meeting Called Friday

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, June 19—All members of three AFL affiliated unions employed at the strike-bound H. B. Salter Mfg. Co. here have been asked to attend a special meeting this Friday morning to discuss the possibility of a return to work.

At a meeting of company and union representative this morning, negotiations were resumed and the results of the negotiations are to be presented to the strikers for their acceptance or rejection.

The strike at the Salter plant which employs some 400 workers and manufactures plumbing supplies started with a walkout on May 15 after weeks of negotiations failed to result in general wage increases.

Bucyrus Bride-Elect Given Shower-Party

GALION, June 19 — Complimenting Miss Beverly Boyd who will become the bride of Walter Roelle Michael of Bucyrus, Saturday, a shower-party was given Tuesday evening by her aunt, Mrs. J. S. Boyd and daughter, Virginia, at their home.

There were 16 guests present to play bridge and join in presenting the honor guest with a miscellaneous shower of gifts. Gifts were arranged in a white paper ruffled basket. The table was centered with a wedding party around which were orange blossoms. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Richard Secrest of Ann Arbor, Mich., sister of the bride-elect, and Miss Betty Hawkins of Marion

DISTRIBUTE FUNDS IN SALE OF CHURCH

Marion Gospel Center Settlement Approved in Court.

Funds have been distributed among Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Budgett and eight religious denominations following sale of the Marion Gospel Center church property on East Center street. A petition for sale of real estate was approved in common pleas court this week, and the church corporation was ordered dissolved.

Rev. Budgett received $4,752, Mrs. Budgett received $228. The eight denominations which received $35 each were Fite Memorial Baptist church, Albany Methodist charge of Albany, O., First Church of The Nazarene, Brush Ridge Baptist church, Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church, Salvation Army, Silver Street mission and Wesleyan Methodist tabernacle. Denominations receiving the funds were named by former members of the congregation of the Marion Gospel Center.

Ed C. Watters purchased the property. He has no definite plans as to future use of the building. Frank Weidemann represented Rev. and Mrs. Budgett, W. R. Martin, Carter Patton and J. C. A. Arter represented trustees and former members of the congregation and John Watters represented Ed Watters.

Miamian's Lost $19,000 In Bank—Minus Reward

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 19—Nat Weiner, Miami, Fla., hotel man has banked $19,000—less the amount spent for two rewards, an airplane trip and sundry other details.

Weiner left the $19,000 in a Cincinnati restaurant last week just before boarding a plane.

The money was found by two waitresses. A return trip to Cincinnati was necessary to pick up the money.

Weiner gave Miss Betty Baker of Covington, Ky., $250 and Mrs. Bonnie Barrowman of Cincinnati $150 for finding the black bag full of currency.

OIL PRICE JACKED UP

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 19—A price increase of two cents a quart became effective today on all grades of motor oils sold by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio. The company said increased crude oil costs and higher expense to improve oil quality had brought the new prices.

Army Points To Special Unit As Proof of Benefit

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—The Army today pointed to the physical condition of its voluntary trainees at Fort Knox, Ky., as proof that universal training would be good for American youths between 17 and 20.

An experimental unit is being maintained at Fort Knox under Brig. Gen. John M. Devine. It is a sort of show window to give the country an idea of what its young men would be in for if congress ever passes the universal training measure asked by President Truman.

Army food, regular hours and plenty of exercise, Gen. Devine said, boosted the average weight of the 585 Fort Knox trainees six pounds in the past 12 weeks. Only 16 lost weight, he said, but of these 14 had been overweight and are just getting down to normal.

Gen. Devine supplied these further physical statistics: 40 per cent of the trainees increased their chest expansion an inch or more in the 12 week period; 15.72 per cent gained half an inch to an inch, and most of the others recorded lesser increases in chest expansion; and 120 of the trainees added half an inch or more to their height.

MOORE'S TO OPEN IN NEW LOCATION

Store To Move to 135-139 S. Main Street Friday.

Moore's Store will open for business in the newly remodeled rooms located at 135-139 South Main street Friday morning. The local store, managed by Frank Neibler, has been in it's present location since it was started May 26, 1937, about five weeks after the opening of the first store in Newark, O.

The Marion store was the fourth in a chain which now comprises 83 stores in Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia.

New quarters were necessary because of the expansion and the new location will give more than twice the room used during the last 10 years, company officials said.

The store handles merchandise for auto, home and farm in addition to paints, hardware, garden tools, small electrical appliances and electrical needs, toys sporting goods, etc.

Couple Wed in Church At Sulphur Springs

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 18—Seasonal garden flowers were used on the altar for the Sunday wedding in Hope Evangelical - Reformed church at Sulphur Springs of Miss Betty Jean Klingel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Klingel of near Bucyrus, and Eugene Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Schneider of Shelby. The bride's attendants were a cousin, Carol Lou Klingel and her sister, Ruth Ann Klingel. Mr. Schneider was attended by Eugene Jeffers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Schneider is associated with the Miller-Shelby Products Co. in Shelby. The bride has been employed in the Bucyrus offices of the Montgomery-Ward Co.

Garment Workers Say New Labor Policy Costly

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 19—Although the AFL-International Ladies Garment Workers have total cash assets of more than $46,723,000, the union will face a period of greater financial outlays because of "restricting anti-labor laws being enacted by congress," says the ILGU president.

Disclosing in a news conference last night that the union had reached a record total of assets, President David Dubinsky said the group's cash balance and other funds had been built up during the last three years when it had little expense for organization and strikes.

That's That

TAXES are not going to come down. Taxpayers are going to keep right on paying wartime tax rates. The last fond dream of the citizens paying the freight for the brave new world has been shattered. There isn't going to be any freight rebate.

The White House decision to keep taxpayers' noses on the grindstone of wartime schedules isn't going to be reversed next year. That's a fairy story. If Mr. Truman's advisers planned it that way—and there's reason to think they did—they were as badly confused as their critics say they are.

After the United States begins in earnest to finance the recovery of Europe, to save it from the planned chaos that precedes communism, income taxes cannot come down. That is the grim news just around the corner.

Meanwhile, the grim news at hand is the fact Republican budget-cutters who promised to find six expendable billions in Mr. Truman's 37½-billion-dollar budget aren't finding half that much. It may turn out by the end of this congressional session that what they did find was more than offset by new spending. The cost of government, said to be outrageously high in 1940 when it reached nine billion a year, is going to level off at a point four times that much in the postwar era.

The key to the tax situation is this: that by June 1948 federal income and outgo were supposed to balance, with no reduction in taxes. But by June 1948 federal outgo will be feeling the effect of an 8 billion-dollar net addition for the assistance of Europe. The net addition either will be financed by going further into debt, cutting the cost of government at home, or raising taxes even higher than they are now.

Tax relief was a wonderful thing to think about while it lasted. It didn't last long. The dream is over.

Congratulations

A NOTABLE honor has come to Miss Ruth Kramer of Marion in her advancement to president-elect of Altrusa International, and this means, of course, honor to her home city.

No doubt most Marion residents are familiar with the importance and scope of Altrusa International, its activities and objectives, and so are in position to appreciate and understand how outstanding is this recognition voted to Miss Kramer. For those who may not be so fully informed, however, let it be said that this is one of the highest ranking international organizations of women and one which has a major role in giving aid and guidance to young women entering professional and business careers. Altrusa's program also lists many other objectives contributing to human welfare and progress. Included among its membership are women prominent in all important fields of business, professional and public service activities, and just to be on its membership rolls is noteworthy. To be chosen for a high place in the direction of its affairs is a tribute of extraordinary significance. Such recognition is granted only those entitled to it because of character, ability, unselfish achievement and other qualities and marks of service which make them outstanding and obviously qualified to lead.

Since the highest station of all has gone to Miss Kramer on this basis, there is indeed every reason for people of Marion to point with pride to the fact that this is her home city.

On behalf of the city and its people, The Star is pleased to convey congratulations to Miss Kramer and to make known our appreciation and gratitude for the community's privilege of sharing in the honor that has come to her.

Broaden the Base

THE house un-American activities committee should be converted into a joint committee representing both houses of congress. Then it should be instructed to grow up and do the indispensable job that events have cut out for it.

It is the only agency of government keeping watch over the agencies of government paid to keep watch over subversion. If the committee disbanded, a substitute would have to be created. The United States has outgrown the illusion that its internal security can be taken for granted.

Meanwhile, the public has outgrown the illusion that federal executive agencies can clean their own houses; they can't. The public is in no mood in 1947 to accept hearty assurances from Washington that all's well. It wants someone to check the assurances.

The un-American committee's members have done indefensible things, ridden roughshod over rights and behaved irresponsibly. Its critics have kept the committee alive, because if they feared it, then it obviously was worth saving. But its work needs to be broadened and backed with more authority. The committee should represent congress, not one part of one house of congress, as it did when it began in 1938 and apparently still does.

Agriculture was carried on with the use of hoes to cultivate the ground for thousands of years before the invention of the plow and millions of people still use hoes instead of plows for cultivation.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Vandenberg Puts Out Foreign Trade Warning.

WASHINGTON, June 19—The Vandenberg suggestion on foreign trade and aid was a soft-voiced and indirect warning that the Republicans are not going to let the Democratic administration run away with the proolem. The Republicans are somewhat sensitive on the subject of isolationism. They do not like to be suspected of such, or have their moves classified as such, even unjustly. Hence the Vandenberg statement was woven with silken words which may have made it appear as a me-too indorsement of what Mr. Truman's state department planning commission is working us up to.

Fundamentally, however, the proposed Vandenberg line is precisely opposite the projected administration line. The administration is sending Will Clayton to see how much western Europe can help itself, and then presumably will formulate a big American money program to give those nations what they cannot get for themselves to restore their economic equilibrium. The Vandenberg program proposes to start at the opposite end of the question and ascertain first how much we have to give without hurting our economy.

The chairman of the foreign relations committee would have a non-partisan congressional committee appointed to find out, for instance, how much wheat we have in prospect and then proceed toward a trade-aid program within fixed limitations, based on that knowledge. In all needed lines, Mr. Vandenberg wants to know first how much we have to give, and then presumably he would distribute this on a basis of need, without draining our own resources in such a way as to perpetuate high prices here or causing prices to go even higher by forcing added shortages in certain lines.

In a similarly soft-shoed manner, without clatter, the house Republicans got themselves together a week or more back to name a committee to go abroad during the congressional recess to study the economic needs of foreign nations. No announcement was made and the news did not leak. They also plan through this agency or another committee to watch how money appropriated for foreign aid and trade is being spent week by week, to see that the administration does no involve them in fait accompli which they would have to accept.

Some congressional offices report an increasing amount of mail protesting against too high expenditures abroad. For example, quite a lot of farmers are writing in, saying the papers report that congress is cutting allotments for soil conservation and agriculture generally (the house initiated the cut in agricultural expenditures.) while proposing to appropriate more sums for foreign relief.

Of course there are two sides to this question. If it were not for shipments abroad and loans, some agricultural products might not be so highly priced.

Herter Chosen

However, the house Republicans in getting together for what they think is a soundly balanced program, decided to name as head of their primary committee Rep. Christian Herter of Massachusetts. He is no isolationist. He was born in Paris, served as attache to the American embassy there, was secretary to the European relief council in 1920 and later personally aided the Hoover relief mission. He is regarded as a man of considerable ability, with prejudiced notions, who would balance European needs with our own economic needs if anyone can.

The reviving isolationists insisted at the start they have representation on the committee, and all signs point to a thorough airing of all viewpoints before our commitments go too far.

Just a Minute

A School for Politicians?

A southern university announces establishment of a course in public office holding.

The curriculum, one imagines, will include classes in such prerequisites as honesty, dependability and evasiveness.

Is the time coming, now that literacy has invaded the political filed, when public documents will be signed with a legible signature rather than the executive mark?

Will musically-minded politicians, once exposed to culture, give out with classical selections on the harp rather than hill-billy hoe-downs on a fiddle?

Shall we even live to see the day when candidates for office will be able intelligently to discuss the problems of the hour, when a man's political stature is measured by the depth of his perception rather than the length of his sound-track?

Personally, I think it's a good idea. Although graduates of the school will almost immediately be confronted with a problem of first magnitude, namely "How to get elected though educated."

Mirage of a Western Bloc

By RAYMOND MOLEY

WE ARE hearing more and more of the idea of a United States of Western Europe. This is a natural consequence of the bitter disappointment of Americans as bright 1945 hopes fade into 1947 frustration. The idea of a United States of Europe has long intrigued idealists in Europe. But solid realities have always stood in its way. And those realities still stand.

Certainly no unification of half of Europe could be brought about by the efforts of America alone. All the money and goods we have could not buy that. Secretary Marshall in substance said as much in his Harvard speech. Unity in Europe, even in western Europe alone, cannot be imposed. It must be accomplished. Marshall suggests, by Europeans.

Russian tactics have driven Americans to the gloomy conclusion that there must be two Europes, based on a division of ideologies and on the limitation of American aid to the western half. This is, of course, an abandonment of the idea of collective security, and it is all but a death blow to the United Nations.

Difficulties Analyzed

Even that might be faced, if a federation of Western Europe could actually be accomplished. But let us appraise the difficulties.

The French still harbor their historical fear of Germany—even of a lesser Germany. Their claims on Germany, territorial and otherwise, cannot help but increase French-German antagonism by creating resentment in Germany. In the past, France has sought safety against Germany through alliances with Russia. And in France there is a virile Communist minority favorable to the Soviets. The relatively large number of "petit bourgeois" who vote Communist can only be explained by this innate French desire to seek security through Russia.

It is doubtful whether any of the Scandinavian countries could afford to join a counter-Soviet bloc. Sweden, under the immediate shadow of Moscow, has just given a loan to Russia which is so large as to impose a severe drain on that country. Norway, Denmark and Finland could hardly afford to do what Sweden dares not do.

Possible "Bridge"

The idea of a Western bloc abandons Czechoslovakia to the East. And this country in many ways is closer to the ideology of the West than are Italy, Germany or Austria. Czechoslovakia may, in any effort to establish general understanding, be a useful bridge between Russia and the West.

Switzerland has a passion for neutrality. And prompted by that intense desire for detachment, she has piled up a war reserve of grain. The little democracy in the mountains will stay aloof.

Germany is non-existent as a policy-making nation. The occupying powers must determine what she shall get and what she shall do.

Italy is hung on the balance. Greece is in the shadow of a possible Balkan Federation.

That leaves only Austria, Holland, Belgium and non-continental England. And England has a weary want of peace.

Spain and Portugal, now under dictatorships which strongly resemble those we fought against in the late war, would be strange units in a United States of western Europe.

There is no security in a unification of western Europe. Collective security through the United Nations can be attained only by long and weary labor over the years. But there is no other way.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 19, 1937.

James M. Barrie, British playwright and novelist and creator of the immortal "Peter Pan," died in London at the age of 77.

Engineers of the state utilities commission placed a valuation of $1,377,675.66 on the property of the Marion Water Co. for rate making purposes. $163,560.34 less than the valuation claimed by the company.

The marriage of Miss Jaynette Vaughan and George Maaske of Mayville, Wis. took place in Epworth M. E. church.

W. D. Brown, secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the Ohio Commercial Secretaries' association at the group's annual convention at Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brashares Jr., whose wedding took place a few weeks earlier, returned from a honeymoon in California and were living at 200 East Center street.

Miss Bertha Bell, county health nurse on leave of absence, had returned from Cleveland, where she completed a course in public health nursing at Western Reserve university.

Gilmore Hiett, advertising manager of The Star, left for New York City to attend the Newspaper Advertising Executives association convention.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, June 19, 1927.

Rev. E. J. Moore, D. D., of Columbus, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, spoke at Epworth M. E. church. Prohibition, he said, has proved a success and would prove still more successful in the future. He blamed wet propagandists and wet officials holding responsible positions for preventing strict nationwide enforcement.

Basing his sermon on Lindbergh's flight to Paris, Dr. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, gave the four laws for success, namely vision, preparation, courage and service.

Thirty-five members of the American Legion, Legion auxiliary, 40 et 8 and Spanish American War Veterans entertained 75 children at the Soldiers and Sailors orphans' home at Xenia.

Pounding the ball all over the lot for 16 hits, the Marion Athletics defeated the Voss Fords of Columbus 13 to 2 in a game at Lincoln park. Marion's battery was Main and Brashare. In a game at Kenton the Marion Poorman team lost to the Kenton Reds five to three.

Mexican Priest Cleared For Beatification

By The Associated Press

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius XII has ratified the decision of the Sacred Congregation of Rites whereby the writings of Father Michele Agostino Pro of the Society of Jesus—who was shot in 1927 during the religious persecutions in Mexico—were held to have nothing in them contrary to faith and morals.

The decree in connection with them—now in process of being formulated—will be included with other documents in the cause for the beautification of the Mexican priest, now in progress.

When a plot was uncovered against Gen. Obregon, Father Pro was accused of having been its instigator. He was shot the same day his trial was to have begun.

RUSSIAN FILING CABINET

Vatican Views Dilemma

By WALTER LIPPMANN

TWICE within the last week the newspaper of the Vatican, L'Osservatore Romane, has discussed the relations between the United States and the Soviet Union. The full texts of these two editorials are not yet available over here. But excerpts are available and there are news reports from Rome which state that the editorials were written by the chief editor, Count Giuseppe Della Torre, at the suggestion of Pope Pius, and that "in Vatican circles" the arguments were said "to reflect the Pope's anxiety over the increasing tenseness between Washington and Moscow."

The significance of these editorials lies in the fact that "despite the traditionally strong anti-Communist stand" of the Vatican, they take a position of "complete impartiality and realism" in the Russian-American conflict, admonish both Moscow and Washington to be more "objective," to avoid an ideological struggle which could lead only to war, and to seek practical compromises.

The warning and the advice from the Vatican came at a time when Mr. Bevin and M. Bidault have been meeting in Paris in response to Secretary Marshall's speech at Harvard. Their first concern has been with an aspect of the question which the Vatican's newspaper is discussing. The immediate question from them is whether they can cooperate with us and not break irreparably with Russia.

European Dilema

It is most important that all who make and administer our foreign policy, and that all who discuss it, should see clearly this dilemma of the Europeans—which is the occasion for the Vatican's warning and is a principal subject matter in the Bevin-Bidault conversations.

All the leading countries of Europe, including many within the Russian orbit, are deeply opposed to the expansion and the domination of Russia. But none of them is prepared to accept American leadership in an anti-Communist coalition. And they have come to believe that this is the intent of the so-called Truman doctrine, and of its pro-genitor, Mr. Churchill's Fulton speech.

During the past year reaction and resistance have been growing in Europe to any policy which would make Europe the stakes of Soviet-American competition, and the continent the battlefield of an ideological and an international war.

We have been, I believe, curiously blind to this phenomenon, and have failed to appreciate its historical importance. The fact is that Europe is rising again, and is determined and is destined to align itself neither with Russia as she is now nor with America, as we have in this past year appeared to be.

This is not, as so many of us imagine, the opinion exclusively of the left and of the fellow travelers. The idea that the European states, including Britain, should mediate between Russia and America and prevent a war, was put forward for the British Commonwealth and empire by Prime Minister Smuts last June, by Gen. De Gaulle in France last July, in effect by Mr. Churchill in his more recent speeches about the United States of Europe, and now by the Vatican newspaper. When President Truman was in Ottawa recently, he seems to have been talked to on this subject by the Canadians.

Attitude on Continent

It goes without saying that on the continent almost any leader of a labor party, a Socialist party or a popular Catholic party, and of an ordinary liberal party, dreads and resist being placed in the position where in order to retain the good will of this country he must be uncompromising and irreconcilable with the Soviets. For the Europeans do not wish to be ground between the upper and nether millstones.

The question now is whether the Marshall proposals are a revision of the "Truman doctrine." To answer that question sincerely would greatly improve the likelihood of their success abroad. Yet it must be admitted that a sincere answer may cause some embarrassment within the administration here at home.

The fact is that the Truman doctrine was a hasty and ill-considered improvisation, designed to meet an emergency for which the State Department was not prepared, and propounded in a form which, whatever its effects elsewhere, was deemed most likely to win quick support in Congress.

The Marshall plan is a considered attempt to supersede the crudities and the unworkable elements of the Truman doctrine—and to place this country behind a constructive settlement rather than at the head of an ideological crusade.

The sooner we admit this, the more frankly we say it, the sooner and the more surely we shall regain what we have been losing—the confidence of the great masses of the people who are too civilized and too proud to be either satellites of Russia or the clients of the United States.

Neither the exhibition of our military power nor the spending of money can restore that popular confidence. We shall also have to prove to mankind that our influence and power are the instruments of statesmanship, which seeks peace, and the rehabilitation of this shattered world, and the settlement of the secular issues that divide it.

Bostonians Give Poland a Hospital

By The Associated Press

BYTOM, Poland—The Unitarian Service Committee, of Boston, Mass., is planning to open a 350-bed hospital for needy Poles at Piekary-Slaskie, near this southern Polish city.

Miss Dorothea B. Jones, of 42 Mt. Vernon St., Boston, director for Poland, said that American doctors will form key personnel for the institution but most of the staff will be Polish. Noel H. Field, of Geneva, Switzerland, European director for the committee, is to attend the dedication ceremonies.

Miss Jones said the new, modern hospital would particularly benefit coal miners in the Bytom region, whose primary need is for traumatic surgery.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Patient Jim Farley Tells All

The time has come to tell the tale
Of F. D. R. and me;
We started off together oh,
So very happily.
His loyalty I counted on—
I thought it extra warm;
'Twas gradually I felt the cold
And saw the icebergs form.

II

I'd been his right-hand backer and
We'd had a lot fun;
We were two souls with one accord—
Two hearts that beat as one;
"My pal" I thought and never felt
A hint it was not so—
Until one day I found myself
Entombed in ice and snow.

III

We were true buddies, so I thought
I had not sought a test;
I first felt strange the day I found
A snowplow on my chest! . . .
I well remember how I gasped
"Can this be really so?"
And heard a whisper through the trees
"Its twenty six below!"

IV

"A little coolness . . . that's all,"
I said and went along
About my job quite satisfied
That there was nothing wrong;
"It's merely gossip, kid" I said
But felt another doubt
When run down by a glacier with
Its front and rear lights out!

V

"It's nothing" . . . so I told myself,
When I got well again;
"It's merely raining violets;
It isn't snow or rain";
But new misgivings hit my mind
When on a White House call
Frank put me up that night upon
Some cracked ice in the hall!

VI

In "forty" I thought, "What is wrong?
I sense a frigid touch . . . .
Oh pshaw! . . . No social equal, I
Must not expect too much" . . .
Then newer proof of coolness came—
It now got in my hair—
Frank asked me up to dinner and
Sent in a polar bear!

L' ENVOI

In "forty-four" the bitter truth
Dawned suddenly at last;
(My reflexes had too long been
Out in the wintry blast);
A patient, kindly pal I am;
Deep through the ice I ran;
Through Franklin I became the world's Best air-conditioned man!

Don't Believe Them

By TRUMAN TWILL

This piece is about young men looking for jobs. We have no jobs to offer, but would like to give them some free advice.

When we were looking for a job—the first time—a fellow went to a lot of trouble to give us some free advice. He said to move heaven and earth to learn how to be a printer, because that was the best move we could make. We spurned this sound counsel, because we intended to be a publisher.

Other young men of our acquaintance at that time were also getting free advice. Older men were telling them to start at the bottom and work up. No doubt the young ladies of our acquaintance who were heading for brilliant careers were being told the same thing; the idea was that, being young, we shouldn't expect to replace people who'd been working a long time.

Fortunately, none of us took this advice seriously. It would have broken our spirit if we had believed that getting ahead in the world meant starting at the bottom and working up. We had seen what working-up turned out to be in reality. By the time you were 50 maybe you had worked up to be assistant to someone who was assistant to someone.

No, we were going to be the presidents of large and thriving concerns, or chairmen of the board if no presidencies were available. The young ladies, no doubt, expected to be stars of the stage and screen, or prominent clubwomen, or the wives of wealthy big wheels. The big thing was to get started. Ten years seemed to be about the right time to allow for success to manifest itself.

It was tough to be patient while some old gaffer pushing 50 explained why his fuddy-duddy outfit had no openings at that particular time for a promising young executive. There seemed to be a conspiracy to impede progress. But gradually it dawned on some of us that maybe 10 years wasn't long enough for success to manifest itself. It might take longer to become men of distinction.

That's all over now. Two of the boys made a little money, not much, but enough so they can give alma mater more than $10 when she asks for help. One fellow made the stage as a ham actor. One became the hatchet man for a politician. There were doctors, undertakers, lawyers, teachers, a couple of preachers and a lot of people doing ordinary things, no tycoons, magnates, or stars of stage and screen, just goops struggling along the best they knew how, speculating about what might have been and handling out free advice to young men looking for jobs. Most of the advice consisted of telling the young men not to expect too much.

Don't believe it, if you're a young man looking for a job. Expect the best. Aim to be president of the company. It's your last chance to be a big shot, because 999 out of 1,000 hopefuls who start at the bottom to work up get lost in the middle.

When Twill gets to be publisher, things will be different. Every young man who wants a job will have a chance to be publisher—the same chance we had—carrying a route in a bad district where half the customers won't pay.

Poachers Destroying Forests

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—Many German forests, once tended with thrifty and almost-loving care, took a beating during the recent severe winter from poachers who chop down trees indiscriminately for fire wood.

The famed Grunewald in Berlin's western suburbs, already thinned by the preceding winter's authorized and planned cuttings, became the victim of night pirates who poached in the darkness to elude British and American guards and German police.

Sometimes when police attempted to rout them the poached resisted with clubs.

ASKS CUT TERM FOR COMIC OPERA TRIO

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 19—U. S. Attorney Ray J. O'Donnell filed a motion in federal court yesterday asking U. S. Judge Mell G. Underwood to reduce heavy sentences given three Springfield youths for a 'comic opera' bank robbery attempt.

Two of the three, Donald A. Neff, 17, and Carson L. Rice, 18, were given 18-year terms in the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, and the third, Charles R. Maley, 23, was given 20 years in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary.

They pleaded guilty to charges of bank robbery in connection with an attempt on the New Holland bank in Pickaway county. The attempt failed when a pistol Rice was holding fell apart.

O'Donnell acted after receiving a letter from Theron L. Caudle, assistant attorney general, quoting officials at the Chillicothe reformatory as saying Rice and Neff were "good prospects for rehabilitation because of their immaturity and cooperation already manifested."

But the authorities feel that the chances of rehabilitation would be greatly enhanced if the terms of imprisonment were somewhat shorter," Caudle wrote.

"It is noted that both of these defendants had previous criminal records, but the attempted bank robbery appears to have been made with little or no planning and the defendants' actions while they were attempting to rob the bank indicated that they did not comprehend the seriousness of their actions.

"The bank employes, too, reacted in such a way as to show that they were not particularly intimidated by the defendants, who were armed. This was probably due to their youthful appearance and due also to the fact that the gun Rice was holding fell apart, exactly at the wrong moment."

DELAWARE NATIVE DIES

GALION, June 19—Word of the death of Harvey Coit, 70, a former superintendent of the Galion Water Co., has been received here this week. He died last Friday in San Diego, Calif. GIRLS' TRIO SINGS AT CALVARY YOUTH RALLY

Church Group Provides Music Rev. Sutherland Speaks.

A trio of girls from Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church sang at the "Christ for Youth" rally service at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church last night. There was a delgation present from the Greenwood church, including the trio composed of Lavina Strine, Nanette Hanning and Phyllis Gorenflo. Their selection was "Anchored Fast." Rev. Dewey Long of of Wagram and Mrs. Robert Brodeck of Marion sang "Tell Me More of Jesus," and the young people's choir sang. Rev. E. W. Faulkner, pastor, offered prayer, and Scripture was verses from the fifth chapter of Second Corinthians.

Rev. James Sutherland of Akron presented the following thoughts in his message, "What It Means To Be a Christian."

"There are some people who think Christianity is a series of don't.

"In order to be a Christian, we will have to have some new eyes. A Christian sees his fellowman in a new light. He has an eye for the things that are good and is blind to the things that are not so good.

"You will also have to have a new set of ears. You are ready to hear and are sensitive to the call of the needy. You will hear the still small voice when it speaks.

"You will have to have a new voice. Our voices are to be dedicated to the love of God, and are to witness to what He has done in our own heart."

Weddings

Mr and Mrs. Walter Lee of near Delaware are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Martha Louise, and Jack A. Sidenstricker, son of Mrs Mildred Sidenstricker of 231 Superior street. The vows were repeated Sunday afternoon, June 8, in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church. Before the altar decorated with palms, two seven-branch candelabra and tall baskets of gladioli, the double ring ceremony was read at 2 30 o'clock by Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour of nuptial music was presented by Mrs J W. Baker organist, and Miss Barbara Hedges, soloist The vocal numbers included, "Always," Berlin; "Indian Love Call," Friml; and "Because," D'Hardelot. Mrs. Baker's selections were, "Song of Gladness," "O Promise Me," "Melodies," and "I Love You Truly" was played softly during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of the traditional white satin, and sheer marquisette. The basque bodice was of satin and the long tightly fitted sleeves ended in points over the wrists The full marquisette skirt extended into a long train Her bridal veil of illusion, fingertip length, was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of red rose buds, and wore a rhinestone bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor was Miss Bessie Bea Lee, sister of the bride Miss Lee was attired in a pale pink gown fashioned with a lace blouse effect and a net skirt. Her bouquet was of white rose buds. The flower girl, Miss Barbara Brownfield of Centerburg, wore a white marquisette dress with a square neckline, puffed sleeves and satin lacing on the bodice, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. She is a cousin of the bride.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, was Charles Sidenstricker, his brother, and ushers were James E Rissler Jr of Marion and Warren Lee, brother of the bride, of Delaware.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lee chose a navy blue sheer dress with which she combined navy blue accessories Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Mrs Sidenstricker was attired in an aqua crepe dress with gold accessories Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds

The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a rhinestone bracelet, and to her flower girl, a tiny gold cross necklace. The bridegroom presented his best man and ushers with gold key chains.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Greenwood inn. A three-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and white, the bride's chosen colors, and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the table. Assisting were Miss Dorothy Boyd, Mrs. James E. Rissler Jr. and Mrs Robert Cramer, all of Marion.

Mrs. Sidenstricker is employed at the Engineer depot in the fiscal division. Mr. Sidenstricker is also employed at the Engineer depot in the mail and records department. He served in the Naval Air corps for 31 months, being discharged Jan. 1, 1946 The couple are making their home with the groom's mother for the present, following a wedding trip to Chicago

Mrs. Wittred is employed as a secretary with the Quaker Oats Co Mr. Wittred, a veteran of World War II, served in the armed forces 39 months, 28 of which were in overseas service He is employed at the National Guard Depot here.

The couple will live at 864 East Church street.

Of interest here is a wedding ceremony in Toledo Wednesday evening, June 11, which united in marriage Miss Flora Louise Duffey, granddaughter of Mrs. Flora Duffey of East Walnut street, and Charles B. Bailey Jr of Toledo. The vows were spoken at 7 30 o'clock in Bethel Lutheran church there.

The bride chose a white wedding gown in satin with peplum trim at the waistline, which draped into a long train. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Firth Duffey, sister of the bride and music supervisor in the schools at Belleville, Mich., was the maid of honor. She was attired in a gown in a cherry-ice shade, fashioned on identical lines as the bride's gown, in a bengaline material. Miss Mildred Westgate dressed like the maid of honor, and Miss Donna Schultz in a chartreuse gown in the same style, carrying sheaves of painted daisies, were the bridesmaids Choir boys in white tunics lighted the tapers on the altar and at each of the pews. Richard Lawson was the best man and Denver Duffey Jr., Richard Messmer Charles Church and Daniel Siminski were ushers. The bride's mother, Mrs. Denver Duffey, was attired in an aqua crepe, and wore black taffet hat and black satin gloves extending above the elbow. Her flowers were yellow roses The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Charles Bailey, was dressed in a coral gown and wore gardenias.

Mrs Flora Duffey chose for her granddaughter's wedding a crepe dress in ciel blue with crystal beaded trim. Her hat was open crowned black satin and she wore black net mitts. Her corsage was pink carnations.

Following a reception in the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a wedding trip Mrs. Bailey wore a blue wool crepe suit for traveling.

Both the bride and bridegroom are students at Toledo university. The bride has been active in music and art groups on the campus, and is a member of the Zeta Gamma Phi sorority, and a soloist

Jury - McCarty Ceremony Read At Bride's Home

FOR the wedding Sunday afternoon of Miss Betty Jury and Arthur McCarty, the living room at the home of the bride's parents in Wyandot was illuminated by pink candles held in two seven-branch candelabra which were tied with blue ribbons The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. A. Jury, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr and Mrs. Marshall McCarty of Dellroy.

The double ring ceremony was read at 2 30 before an improvised altar of peonies, mock orange blossoms and ferns, with Rev. Fred Ross of the Wyandot Methodist church officiating. Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Cecil Heinlen of Nevada, pianist, who played "Indian Love Call," "On, Promise Me," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Through the Years," and she and Mrs Dale Suter of Mt Zion, who played the accompaniment, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches were used

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white crepe street length dress with fitted bodice and full, gathered skirt, and a white braided hat with white veil. Completing her costume were long lace mitts She carried a white Bible on which was placed an orchid with white streamers.

Two small nieces of the bride Judy and Bonnie Jury, were flower girls and led the wedding procession carrying bouquets of stephanotis with pink and blue streamers Mrs. Lucile Koch and Mrs. Gwen Kirian of Bloomville sisters of the bride, were her attendants and were costumed in dresses of pink and blue identical in fashion with that of the bride Each carried colonial bouquets of pink roses and stephanotis with pink and blue streamers William McCarty and Marshall McCarty Jr, brothers of the bridegroom, served respectively as his best man and as usher. The candles were lighted by JoAnn Jury, another sister of the bride. She was dressed in white.

Mrs. Jury wore for her daughter's wedding, a dress of navy blue shade trimmed in white, with white accessories, and Mrs McCarty was dressed in beige trimmed in rose, with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink rosebuds with pink ribbons.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the dining room A garden bouquet formed the centerpiece of the table which was lighted with four pink tapers in crystal holders tied with blue ribbons. At one end was a three-tiered cake on which stood a miniature bride and groom encircled with pink rosebuds Bouquets of flowers were placed throughout the rooms Assisting in serving were Mrs. Ted Jury sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs Martha Jane Leitzy of Mt Zion, another sister and Miss JoAnn Jury. The bride's gifts to her attendants were ear ring and lapel pin sets, and the bridegroom presented his best man and usher with tie clasp sets.

When the couple left on a trip through the south, Mrs McCarty was wearing a navy blue suit with white accessories, and her corsage was an orchid, gift of her husband She is employed as secretary at the bulk station of the Gulf Refining Co in Marion, and Mr. McCarty is an employe of the McMillen Feed Mills, Inc. of Ohio here. They will be at home at 379 South State street after July 1

Out of town guests at the wedding were besides those of the wedding party, musicians, and the bridegroom's parents and brothers, his sister, Miss Adaline McCarty of Dellroy, Mr. and Mrs M. Myer and Mr. and Mrs John Young of Marion, Mrs. Feed Ross and daughter Evangeline of Harpster, James Leitzy of Mt Zion, and Herman Kirian and son of Bloomville.

B-29's of Bird World Are Nature's Pessimists

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — Condors—the B-29s of the bird world—nave their own private estate near here, and is more exclusive than Park avenue.

They are doing right well for a big bunch of buzzards. For centuries they have existed on left overs abandoned by predatory ground animals, and since 1937 the whole tribe has been on government relief.

Hal Boyle

Condors are a kind of historical freak — nature's pessimists. They are the largest birds of flight in the world, with a wing spread of nine to 11 feet, but their toes are so weak they can hardly stand on their four feet.

This keeps them from swooping down and grabbing their own prey, so they are carrion eaters feeding on carcasses left in the fields or hills. They have a bald neck and head and a big beak that makes them look in profile like a well-pickled Egyptian mummy.

Miners shot the birds in pioneer days to get their wing-feathers, useful for storing gold dust.

Conservationists rallied so alarmingly that 10 years ago a 1,200-acre mountain sanctuary was set aside for them in the Los Padres national forest to keep them from becoming extinct. Visitors are barred from the preserve.

Only six condors were known to exist in 1937. Now the tribe is believed to number about 50. They are the only ones left in North America, and their only relatives are some hill billy cousins who haunt the inaccessible peaks of the Andes — the South American Condors.

Fly at Great Heights

The condor flies at great heights, soaring for hours on his tremendous wings, and his extraordinary eye can see a sheep carcass on the ground farther than a Hollywood hush can spot a free martini.

Knowing what a rough life is ahead of him, the baby condor stays in his nest longer than any other bird—six months. Bird psychologists say this isn't exactly like a human Oedipus complex—incestuous love for his feathered Mama—but just a reluctance to learn to fly. He's in no hurry to grow up and collect garbage.

Old settlers used to tell tales of condors carrying small children off to their lairs, but that was nonsense. The vultures just haven't got the strength in their toes and talonless claws. Wiseacres have suggested that since Gene Tunney built up his hands by gripping tennis balls perhaps the condor could be taught to do the same thing and thus develop his toe muscles until they were strong enough to grab live food—like the owl or eagle. Unfortunately nothing has come of this suggestion as it is difficult to get close enough to a condor to throw him a tennis ball.

Need Ridge for Takeoff

Condors are so weak in the underpinning, as a matter of fact, that they are all but helpless on the ground and need a small ridge for an a-number-one takeoff.

They are in the prime of life at 20 and live to be 30. One problem in building up their tribe is that condors aren't much interested in sex. They only produce one egg and don't bother to next every year. They just like to fly around and brood over what is going to die next to make them a meal.

They are much more trouble to the government out here than rabbits, which don't require a private estate and just refuse to become extinct.

In 1935 a Los Angeles museum expedition for the first time took two bunnies out to Anacapa, an island 32 miles southeast of here. It was virgin territory for rabbits. In 1940 the expedition returned and found 1,000 rabbits on the 700-acre island.

There's a lesson for the pessimistic condor. He'll have to learn to have faith in the future like the rabbit—or else he'll join the lamented dodo, if the government ever drops him from the relief rolls. The rabbit is running out on private enterprise.

MINISTERS ARE SPEAKERS AT PENSION MEETING

Rev. H. J. Platter bishop of Wellsburg, W. Va., Rev. Al Fleck of Los Angeles, Calif., and Rev. John Goon pastor of Primitive Wesleyan church of North Grand avenue were speakers at the meeting Friday of the Old Age Pension society of Marion county in the Eagles hall.

The meeting opened with singing "America" by the group, repeating the Lord's Prayer and salute to the flag. Rev. Fleck gave the opening prayer. The musical portion of the program included two numbers by the chorus, "I Will Tell Jesus" and "Dealing on the Everlasting Arms," a song by Rev. Fleck "Have You Any Time for Jesus," a duet by William Sergent and Christian Ruhl, "I'll Make It My Home" and a song "I'll Be Gone" by Mr. and Mrs. Troy Coats, playing their own guitar accompaniment.

Rev. Fleck chose as the theme for his talk, "I have created him for my glory, Man Ye are my witnesses." He urged the people to turn to prayer and hope in Christ before it would be too late. Rev. Goon in his talk reminded the people that God cleanses the hearts of sinners.

Rev. Platter said that each person should stir his soul and heart to repentance, seek and find salvation and turn to Christ before it is too late.

Reports of the sick were given by William Porter and Arthur Hershner was named as delegate to the convention in Washington June 24-28. Rev. Goon closed the meeting with a prayer.

CLUB VISITS MARION

Members of the Kirkpatrick Buzzers 4-H club were recently conducted on tours through several places of business in Marion including Rowland's Bakery, the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Hotel Harding, The Star, and the Ward-Stinson Co. plant. They were accompanied by their advisor, Miss Lucille Kennedy, and Mrs. Ruth Reamsnyder. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Peggy Walter.

Sarsaparilla is extracted from the fibrous roots of a plant found principally in Central America.

FINE, WORKHOUSE TERM GIVEN MAN

Found Guilty by Jury in Municipal Court Trial.

Melford J. Wyrick, 47, of 153 Campbell street was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six months in the Columbus workhouse yesterday afternoon by Judge W. Dexter Hazen after he was found guilty of indecent exposure by a jury of eight men and four women.

The alleged exposure was committed April 18. He had been out on a $200 bond since that time. He was arrested after a Marion woman had come to the station to inform police. The officers went to the address and watched as the woman went by the house and testified they saw Wyrick in another exposure. He was brought to the police station in pajamas when the police found he was intoxicated and offered resistance, the officers said. Wyrick had been employed by the Erie railroad for 17 years. He was defended in court by Attorney Frank Wiedemann.

Hardin School Board Seeks Superintendent

Special to The Star

KENTON, June 19—The Hardin county board of education announced yesterday that it had offered a contract to F. C. Ransdell as superintendent of the county schools, to succeed R. W. Cotterman, who resigned the office early in May, effective August 1, 1947. Mr. Ransdell has not given formal acceptance.

Mr. Ransdell held the office of superintendent here from August 1, 1931 to October 1, 1945, when he resigned due to ill health. Mr. Cotterman replaced him at that time. Mr. Cotterman resigned to return to his former position as superintendent of the Alger school which post he held for 13 years before taking over the county office.

Prior to becoming superintendent of the county schools in 1931, Mr. Ransdell held the position of local school head at Ridgeway from 1921 to 1928 and at Dunkirk from 1928 to 1931.

Ohio Tax Aids Speak At C. of C. Meeting Here

Ira M. Korst and William Evans of Columbus, representatives of local tax organization relations of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, were guest speakers when the civic affairs committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday noon at Hotel Harding. The speakers compared data on health districts and expenditures. Taking part in the discussion was Mayor Harry L. Dowler.

C. R. Pennisten reported that the building code now being considered by the city planning commission is near enough to completion that it can be written with the general ideas of groups which have given suggestions, and will soon be ready for presentation to city council.

OILY HAIR?

Eminent Practitioner Suggests This Simple Care

Dr. C. F. Shiffer, Licensed by Ohio State Medical Board. (Common Therapy)

An oily scalp requires more frequent shampooing. But dermatologists agree that shampoos containing alcohol, free alkalies and harsh ingredients only irritate the scalp, making the oily condition even worse.

Unlike ordinary shampoos, Dr. Shiffer's Special 101 Formula Shampoo can be used often as needed without harming the most delicate scalp. Specially compounded to give gentle cleansing it works into a rich lather in hard or soft water. A quick rinse leaves the hair and scalp refreshed and thoroughly clean. For additional protection between shampoos Dr. Shiffer's Hair and Scalp Conditioner is recommended.

At all drug and department stores. If you are not completely satisfied, return the unused portion direct to Dr. Shiffer and he will refund your money immediately.

Chemical Film On Teeth Cuts Decay By 40 Per Cent

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 19—An experiment with 5,500 Miami county school children indicates tooth decay cases can be reduced 40 per cent by painting a two per cent solution of sodium fluoride on teeth.

Dr. H. W. Millhoff, chief of the state division of dental hygiene, issued a preliminary report today on the study by the U. S. public health service and the dental division of the state health department.

The study has been under way a year and a half. Dr. Millhoff said the children would be re-examined regularly to see how long the treatment is effective.

The work itself was done by Dr. Don Gallagan and assistants from the public health service. It was limited to children between the ages of 6 and 10 years.

In portable dental equipment set up in various schools, each child was given at least two, but not more than six, applications of the solution.

Dr. Millhoff said a preliminary analysis showed best results came from four treatments spaced four to six weeks apart.

Turkish Envoy Slated To Administer U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON, June 19—President Truman today nominated Edwin C. Wilson, ambassador to Turkey, to be chief of the American mission under the $100,000,000 Turkish aid program.

The nomination was sent to the senate along with the appointment of Charles E. Saltzman, vice president of the New York stock exchange, as an assistant secretary of state.

Wilson will handle the Turkish aid job in addition to his duties as ambassador. The Turkish aid is part of a $400,000,000 program to bulwark Turkey and Greece against Communism.

There was some confusion concerning the post Saltzman would take. Neither the White House or state department has disclosed there is any vacancy in the assistant secretaryships.

Court Action Hangs Over Disrupted School

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 19 — The threat of court action hung over suburban North College Hill's school district today despite the wholesale resignation of its school board.

Augustus Beall, attorney for a citizens' group which had opposed the majority of the board, said he planned to push his suit for an injunction even though the district now is under the control of the Hamilton county probate court.

The injunction sought would restrain the school district from making payments toward support of a Roman Catholic parochial school which is included in the school system.

All five members of the school board split into rival factions, resigned Tuesday night in an effort to solve differences which flared last February in a strike of 700 high school and elementary pupils.

Ohio Minimum Wage Law's Legality Upheld

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 19—Ohio's minimum wage was held constitutional today by an Ohio supreme court ruling against the Athens Steam laundry.

The high tribunal held that former director of industrial relations George A. Strain was within his rights in bringing suit against the laundry, operated by Walter S. Southerton and Carl R. Wilson, to collect minimum wage claims of two women employes.

The decision upheld the appellate court which had reversed a common pleas ruling that the law was invalid. The judgment means that the Athens county court now must determine whether the two workers were underpaid—and, if so, how much.

his coat, demanding Miles turn over keys to the jail.

"You can't do that," the youth was told by James Newby, a janitor who was cleaning the room.

Miles said Westlake tried to grab him by the throat, but that he shoved the Newark youth back.

"There are four or five deputies in the other room and you wouldn't have a chance," the record clerk said he told Westlake.

The youth finally was subdued, said Miles, and the "gun" found to be made of soap colored black. It was complete even to a trigger guard and a notch on the side of the barrel.

Richwood Girl Is Wed In Church Ceremony

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, June 19 — The Richwood Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Kathryn Jean Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Kirk, of near Richwood, and Theodore A. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Miller of Toledo. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Richard E. Burton of Markel, Ind., former pastor of the church. A half hour of music was played by Mrs. Rodney Boda, organist with Miss Alice Boda as soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Dwight J. Ridge, sister of the bride acted as matron of honor with Miss Elizabeth Clark of near Gambier, a college roommate, serving as bridesmaid. Miss Bobbie Kirk, a younger sister was junior bridesmaid. Flower girls were Sharon Jean and Peggy Elaine Ridge, nieces of the bride. Walter E. Miller Jr., of Toledo, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Ushers were Richard L. Miller, Boyd Cochran, Ralph Cochran, all of Toledo and Dwight J. Ridge of Richwood.

A reception for about 75 guests followed at the bride's home. Misses Elaine and Maxine Wharton of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Robert Miller of Oxford acted as hostesses with Mrs. Paul Ridge and Mrs. Marvin Post assisting.

Mrs. Miller was graduated from the Richwood High school in 1943 and last week received her degree from Ohio State university. Mr. Miller served three years in the Navy, is a graduate of Toledo High school and is now a student at Toledo university.

PLAN

a joint statement, they welcomed "with the greatest satisfaction" the ideas expressed by Marshall in a speech at Harvard university June 5.

Their joint message to Moscow proposed that the meeting of the three foreign ministers be held in a "convenient" place to be agreed upon, but one well-informed British source said the note made it quite clear that London or Paris would be considered most convenient.

Both French and British representatives said the possibility of a Russian refusal had not even been considered by Bevin and Bidault and it appeared obvious that they expected a quick reply.

"Take It or Leave It"

Their note did not say so in so many words, but well-grounded informants said they were determined to go ahead on the Marshall program without Russia if the reply from Moscow is in the negative or inconclusive.

"We must go ahead," said one British official. "The question is too urgent."

There was no immediate indication of what response Russia would make, but the Russian press has taken a dim view of Marshall's proposal, calling it merely an extension of the Truman doctrine, which it described as an attempt to "exert political pressure with the aid of dollars—a program of interference in the affairs of other states."

The program included two musical selections by Mrs. Minnie VanAsbeck and reading by Mrs. Martha Herrod. It was announced that a sponsor's dinner will be held at the lodge hall Tuesday, June 24.

BABIES

Linn and Charles Teach, were visiting their children in the ward. Mrs. Linn said she saw the man through the open door of her child's room. She said he was tall, more than six feet, and was wearing a white jacket. He had dark hair. She placed the time at between 7:35 and 7:40 p. m.

Mr. Teach, a foreman at Republic Steel Corp., said he arrived at the room of his daughter at approximately 7:40 p. m. His daughter was asleep, he said, and not wishing to disturb Mrs. Linn and her daughter in the same room, he walked out into the hall to smoke a cigaret.

As he sat in the far end of the hall, Mr. Teach said he saw a "good sized" man walking down the hall. He described the man as neat-appearing and tall. Mr. Teach said he had been in the hall approximately six or eight minutes.

The times given by both witnesses coincide with the story of Marian Silleck, a student nurse, who found the two infants dying of head injuries at 7:45. She said she knew the time because she had looked at her watch as she felt their pulses.

The descriptions of the man in the white jacket also tallies with another story told by a boy patient in the ward who told police he had seen "a big boy in a white jacket" enter the babies' nursery.

IOWA VILLAGERS SEE FLOOD ENGULF TOWN

By The Associated Press

OAKVILLE, Ia., June 19—Residents of this almost-deserted southeast Iowa village watched from a distance today as the swirling flood waters of the Iowa river engulfed the town.

The river, which had created havoc for miles upstream flooding thousands of acres of farm land, was at a standstill late last night and Mayor O. D. Johnson said "I don't believe it will get any higher."

The community of 440 was deserted except for a few families and those on flood duty, Johnson said. All roads leading into the village were impassable as the flood waters reached the city limits.

The built-up roadbed of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad which serves as a two and a half mile long levee, was cracking steadily. The result was formation of a lake eight miles long and four miles wide, backed up against a levee along the Mississippi river. The Iowa river empties into the Mississippi about five miles from here.

South of there on the Mississippi which also is the intake for the flooded Des Moines river, residents were warned of a second big overflow in about a week.

Ohio National Guard To Train At Camp Perry This Summer

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, June 19 — The Ohio National Guard, now numbering 8,000 officers and men, will train this summer at Camp Perry near Port Clinton, under leadership of the war department.

Army officials have given approval for the ONG drills from July 20 to Aug. 3 at Camp Perry, which the war department took over during the war for use as a prisoner-of-war camp. It will be returned to the state following renovations for restoration of the camp's and buildings to their former status.

Gen. Chesler Goble said 8,000 units, now concentrated at Cleveland and Columbus, will begin training at the time that ground troops receive basic training at Camp Perry.

Flying units will receive their training at their local airports because of inadequate flying facilities in the Camp Perry area for a two-week period later on, probably in August.

Congressional Action Necessary

Details of flight training will not become available until congressional action on appropriations for the training becomes final, Goble said.

The Ottawa county region will be used by the ONG for the first time since 1939. The next year ONG units trained in Wisconsin and later went to war. The Ohio State Guard obtained permission to use the camp last summer as the war department completed transfer of prisoners.

All units which received federal recognition on or before April 15 will spend two weeks at Camp Perry. The other units which received recognition since then have not been equipped sufficiently for the encampment, Goble said.

Since approximately three-fourths of the ONG enlistments were youths without wartime experience the training will be basic, Goble said a large number of these just left high school and colleges in the state.

Go By Truck, Train

Units in the northern part of Ohio will travel to Camp Perry by truck Sunday, July 20, and return on Sunday, Aug. 3. Troops farther away will be sent to the camp by train.

The federal government will underwrite all costs of the summer drills, Goble said. The program will cost approximately $250,000 this year. Last year when the state guard and naval militia used the ground, the state paid practically all expenses, while the federal government only made scarce and necessary items available.

Since the ONG is rapidly taking over the functions of the wartime State Guard and militia, the OSG Units will not receive intensive training this year. The state units are receiving regimental problems in various localities to keep them alert even in their last days.

Mustered Out Gradually

The 3,000 officers and men in the state forces will be mustered out gradually as the ONG becomes stronger and more efficient.

The adjutant general said the State Guard still was on the alert, despite the fact that it may be disbanded within a few months. Two weeks ago several units of the State Guard did "very commendable" work in the Ravenna area where they patrolled the roads for several days while reconstruction work was begun.

The ONG troops at Camp Perry will be under the command of Gen. Leo M. Kreber, head of the 37th Division, while the group of approximately 50 army instructors will be headed by Col. Robert H. Van Volkenburg, senior ground force instructor in Ohio.

Goble said that the training would emphasize the basic things "necessary to converting the civilian into a soldier," including rifle marksmanship, preliminary marksmanship and firing on the range. The drills will be staggered so the large number of men can be accommodated on the limited facilities.

Six hours a day will be devoted to training and two hours to athletics, Goble said. Movies will be shown four nights a week. The ONG personnel will receive pay given to regular soldiers in the U. S. army, according to their rank.

in the choir of the Bethel Lutheran church. The bridegroom was in the air corps during the war. Mrs. Bailey will graduate from the university in August, and will teach in the Toledo city schools in the fall.

Friends and relatives from Marion attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wills, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Schneider, Sally Schneider, Miss Virginia Mounts, Mrs. Mildred Duffey, Paul Duffey and Mrs. Flora Duffey.

Miss Marguerite Peterson became the bride of Alvin Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Sanford of 496 East George street, in a ceremony at Emanuel Lutheran church Saturday. Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor, read the ceremony. Miss Dava Sanford, sister of the groom, and Charles Peterson, brother of the bride, were their attendants.

The bride was attired in a blue-gray dress with white accessories. She wore a gardenia corsage and carried a white Bible. Miss Sanford wore a brown dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother chose a navy blue dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Sanford is employed at the Marion Engineer depot and served with the army in the European theater during the war. He is a graduate of Forest High school. Mrs. Sanford is a graduate of Harding High school and Capital university in Columbus. She has taught for two years at Mark Street school. The couple are making their home at 121 South Grand avenue.

POSTMASTERS' INQUIRY BEGUN

Special Counsel Hired To Aid Investigation of Recent Appointments.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 18 — Hoping at a Democratic claim that no extra snip can really be cured, Senator Langer (R-ND) announced yesterday that the senate civil service committee has employed Emanuel H. Levin of Chicago to serve as special counsel for the investigation of postmaster appointments.

Langer, chairman of the committee, said reporters Levin is expected to take over his duties immediately.

The senate Tuesday authorized expenditure of $25,000 on an inquiry into postmaster appointments. The vote was 44 to 35.

At that time Senator Hatch (D-NM) told the senate that during 7 additional committee personnel for the investigation would include two investigators and an accountant.

Issues Dare

Reminded by reporters of Hatch's stand, Langer said:

"If he wants to start something, let him start something. We'll meet that issue when we come to it."

A subcommittee, which Langer also heads, will make the investigation.

Langer said Levin's first job will be to check pending postmaster nominations on which the civil service committee has refused to take any action pending the investigation. He said there are 887 nominations.

"As soon as the general counsel has checked the list and tells us which nominees rank as No. 1 among the three with the highest civil service rating, the subcommittee plans to recommend to the full committee that their nominations be confirmed," Langer said.

In cases where the No. 1 man on the eligibility list was passed over to give a nomination to the second or third man, he said, "it will be the general intention of the subcommittee to refuse to confirm the No. 1 man, even though the civil service law provides that the postmaster general can select any one of the three."

Langer said the subcommittee and the general counsel also are going to "make a special study of areas, for example, in a state like Michigan no Republicans have been appointed postmaster for nine years."

The subcommittee intends to find out, too, Langer said, whether civil service has been giving adequate notice of competitive examinations to both Republicans and Democrats."

Langer said Levin, a member of the law firm of Friedlund, Levin and Friedlund, has practiced law in Chicago for 25 years.

"That's all I know about him, except that he is a Republican," he added.

The senate authorization for the investigation was by adopting a resolution Langer had introduced.

THE NATION TODAY

Greatest Story of Times — Aid To Europe—Clouded and Vague

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 19 — You're probably well confused about one of the most important stories of our time: This country's proposal for helping needy Europe. It was made by Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

He suggested it two weeks ago. It sounded vague when he spoke of it. And maybe it still sounds vague to you.

James Marlow

If it's vague.

And if you, outside Washington, are puzzled, you're no more puzzled than most of the people in Washington.

Maybe a few people close to Marshall have a clear idea of what's going to come of the proposal, and how.

If so, they're not saying. It's doubtful they know.

Undersecretary Vague

Yesterday Will Clayton, Marshall's right-hand man as undersecretary of state for economic affairs, had a news conference.

A roomful of reporters tried to find out from Clayton how Marshall's proposal would work.

Clayton told them it is much too early to say anything definitely because Marshall has offered only a proposal, not a program.

Briefly, what Marshall has proposed is this:

This country has given Europe a lot of help. But the European countries still are in bad shape, getting worse.

If they want more help from this country, then they ought to get together and work out a program for American relief.

Can Offer To U. S.

When they get such a program worked out among themselves, they can offer it to this country. This country then will decide what it can do.

Britain and France have agreed to start the ball rolling in Europe by calling a conference over there to talk over a program.

Russia will be invited to that European conference but there's no indication that Russia will accept.

But the Marshall idea already has been attacked over the official Moscow radio which quoted a story in a Russian newspaper, Pravda. That story said in part:

The United States is trying to use dollars to interfere in other countries' affairs; Russia and the eastern European countries are holding aloof from American aid.

Four Committees Planned

The British and French talk of setting up four committees to study European needs in coal, food, steel and transportation.

This—if a program emerges from the committee studies—might be the backbone for big American help.

But would American help be limited to those four things? What else would the countries need? No answer so far on that.

And how long will it be before the European program is worked out and America accepts it and starts giving the help needed?

Clayton couldn't answer that. There's no program now. In Europe now there is only talk of trying to get together to work out a program.

Standing in the background, of course, is this shadow:

That if the countries don't get the help they need, and go further downhill, Communists may take control in some of them, such as France and Italy.

And what then? No one knows.

CONGRESS MAY VOTE TO CASH VET BONDS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON [illegible] Speaker Rayburn [illegible] that congress will vote at this session to allow veterans to cash their terminal bonus [illegible]

His decision was announced to newsmen a short time after the house rejected, 170 to 169, a motion to recommit, or kill, a bill to allow veterans to cash their bonuses [illegible]

[illegible] the bonus [illegible] the right of veterans to cash their bonuses [illegible] budget [illegible] the time [illegible] the bonus [illegible]

The speaker indicated any decision would be [illegible] to do so [illegible] he would do so [illegible] the bill would [illegible] the administration would have [illegible] of securing a vote [illegible] the veterans [illegible] to vote on the terminal leave bonus

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Jaundice

[illegible] jaundice [illegible] the underside of the many different symptoms which [illegible] jaundice has perhaps caused more fear [illegible] of the skin. When such a person comes to a doctor the [illegible] know that the pigments are circulating in the blood [illegible] but only a careful study [illegible] enable him to determine if possible he will want [illegible] to go to the proper laboratory tests can be made to determine the cause [illegible] to Dr. Frederick [illegible] of Chicago, jaundice is [illegible] usually due to a disorder which requires immediate operation [illegible] sometimes operation is not needed at all.

Among the causes of jaundice are the blocking of the flow of bile from the liver, the presence of a stone in one of the primary ducts or an infection of the liver.

Whatever the cause of the jaundice the patient needs rest. Then he requires a carefully regulated diet. Every jaundice patient should receive a diet high in calories, such as starches and sugars as well as in certain essential proteins from such foods as meat, milk and eggs. He should be supplied with plenty of water, but the diet should be limited in fats. If the patient cannot take enough food by mouth, he may be given various sugar solutions by injection into the vein. He may be given a solution of amino acids which are a substance from which proteins are made. Vitamins may also be given by injection.

Jaundice is frequently accompanied by severe itching of the skin. To relieve this special preparation of egg oil, warm baths, or various ointments may be of value.

If the jaundice is accompanied by a severe infection, the sulfonamide products, as well as penicillin may be used without any fear according to Dr. Steigmann [illegible] found after careful study, that operation is required to get rid of the cause for jaundice the treatment as mentioned above will aid in improving the patient's condition so that he is better able to withstand the operation.

The patient with jaundice should not be given any anesthetic such as ether which has a damaging effect on the liver. During the operation, it may be important also to give injections of ephedrine in order to keep up the blood pressure.

Bear in mind that jaundice is never a symptom and can be best treated when the cause has been found.

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your plates [illegible] and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wabbling when you laugh, eat or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This [illegible] powder holds [illegible] more firmly and makes them more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks plate odor (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

We like to keep you, our good friends, advised of conditions.

That is why, last week, we told you that in spite of the very small space allotted to us by the Star, and in spite of all the shortages in Gas Ranges, Washers, Refrigerators, Electric Ranges, Rugs and Linoleum, in spite of all these, May was the biggest month in the history of our store.

We are passing on to you in lower prices the money we are saving in advertising.

And you seem to like it, because business with us is mighty good this month, too.

Cline Family Holds Reunion at Ashley

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—The Cline family reunion was held at the old Cline homestead on the Wickham farm near Thornhill, Sunday, with 55 in attendance. Taking part in a program were Rodney McGonigle, Mrs. Lou Coover, W. J. McGonigle, Mrs. Jimmie Hargreave, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bell of Columbus, Mrs. Marie Savage, Mrs. Edith Linsted. Rodney McGonigle was chosen president and Miss Anita Cline was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hoffmire were honored Sunday when their children and families gathered at their home to celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary and Father's Day. Present were Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips and family of Mt. Gilead, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zimmerman and son of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Spearman and son of Dunkirk.

Owing to the cool weather, the intermediate group of Ashley Youth Fellowship met in the church basement for their wiener roast Monday night. The topic for discussion was directed by Mrs. H. L. Borden. A vocal duet was given by Betty Thurston and Barbara Howard. David Jackson directed the games.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnhart and family of Old Orchard Beach, Me., arrived Saturday at the home of Mrs. Barnhart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bryant, for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jordan, Robert Fogleson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barber accompanied by Mrs. Dever Bishop and daughter and Mrs. Hugh Law of Delaware attended the wedding of Don Lawrence Jr. of near Leonardsburg to Miss Helen Haas in the Logan Methodist church Saturday.

Needs of Ashley Methodist church were discussed in a special service held under sponsorship of the official board of the church Sunday morning. Speakers were H. E. Warner, Mrs. Esther Davis, Frank Jackson, Mrs. Florence Smith, F. J. Riley, C. L. Shoemaker and J. H. Rutledge. Charles Chadwick, chairman of the board, was in charge.

Couple Married In Church at Richwood

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, June 18 — Baskets of white gladioli and palms formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Nelda Eileen Weller, daughter of Mrs. Ruth B. Weller of Richwood and Joseph Hollis Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Wall of Macon, Ga., Saturday at First Baptist church in Richwood. Rev. J. Herbert Goewey of Columbus officiated.

A prelude of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Charles Gill, organist, and Mrs. Margaret Clevenger, soprano. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Wade Hull. Mrs. James Currie was matron of honor. Preceding the ceremony the Misses Mary and Helen Brelsford lighted the tapers. Jack Weller, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Seating the guests were David Hull and Joseph McDermott.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Serving guests were Miss Pauline Prichard and Mrs. Robert Warner. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Wade Hull and Mrs. Harold Tennant. The couple will make their home in Quantico, Va.

The bride was educated in the local schools and graduated from Miami university. She taught in Middletown schools and for the past four years has been recreation director for the American Red Cross at hospitals in the south.

The bridegroom was educated in the Macon schools and served as warrant officer in the Marine Corps in both the European and Asiatic theaters. He is now associated with the Graves Insurance agency.

Cakes of salt once were used as money in both Tibet and Abyssinia.

Savings and Loan Co. Remodeling Offices

Offices of the Marion Federal Savings and Loan Co. at 134 East Center street are being remodeled. Executive offices, formerly in the front of the room, are being removed to the rear, and counters have been placed in the area formerly occupied by the offices. Glass and grill work has been removed from the counters, leaving an open area which gives a more modern appearance to the room.

New office furniture and lighting fixtures will also be installed a part of the remodelling program.

Couple Repeat Vows In Galion Ceremony

Special to The Star

GALION, June 14 — Isabelle Esther Crosenwere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Crosenwere of Galion, was married to Billy Franklin Hendershot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hendershot of Mt. Gilead, Sunday afternoon at First Reformed church in Galion. Rev. E. R. Ebker performed the ceremony. Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Miriam Sayre, organist, and Elaine Berry, vocalist. Miss Marjorie Hendershot of Akron, sister of the groom, and Mildred Crosenwere and Mrs. James Reusch, sisters of the bride, were her attendants. The rings were carried by Bonnie Crosenwere, a cousin of the bride. Guests were seated by Virgil Irwin, James Reusch, Dickey Hendershot and Dale Crosenwere.

At a reception in the church parlors refreshments were served by Mary Herwig, Mrs. Virgil Irwin, Mrs. Ivan Beck, Mrs. Gene Nigh, all of Galion, and Jane Quay of Mt. Gilead.

The bride was graduated from Galion High school in 1944 and has been employed in the offices of the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. Mr. Hendershot was graduated from Iberia High school in 1934. He served in Korea and the Philippines while in the army.

Bucyrus Girl Marries Resident of Sycamore

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 14—In a ceremony in St. Paul's Lutheran church Saturday evening Miss Carol Jane Frey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Frey of Bucyrus, and Vern Eugene Schiffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schiffer of Sycamore, exchanged marriage vows. Rev. J. David Mumford read the double ring ceremony.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Mildred Schiffer, sister of the bridegroom. Fred Schiffer was his brother's best man.

The couple will live in Galion where Mr. Schiffer is employed at the American Steel Abrasives Co. The bride is a graduate of Bucyrus High school. Mr. Schiffer, a graduate of Lyness High school, spent two years in the army.

IT'S TIDE

. . . you've never used anything like it!

TIDE does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! It's a true washday miracle, made possible through wartime research. You'll know you're using a completely NEW product the minute you make suds with Tide. Tide suds look different, feel different . . . and those wonder suds just laugh at hard water! Even in hardest water they billow up so thick and fast you'll be amazed!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

1. Washes clothes cleaner!

Yes, cleaner than any soap made! You'll get a real washday thrill when you see your first Tide wash. Everything comes cleaner—even grimy play clothes and heavily soiled work clothes. That's because Tide leaves clothes free—not only from ordinary dirt—but from gray, dingy soap film as well.

2. Actually brightens colors!

Color brightness perks up like magic as Tide makes dulling soap film disappear. Washable prints and pastels actually come out brighter with Tide! Tide is really safe for your dainty washable colors!

3. Never "yellows" white things!

What a blessing for your precious, hard-to-get white things! No matter how often you wash them, no matter how long you store them. Tide can't turn them yellow!

4. Gives more suds—

Prove it in your dishpan!

Kind-to-hands suds! Faster suds! Longer-lasting suds than any soap in hardest water! Tide cuts grease like magic . . . washes dishes cleaner than any soap! No scum in the water! No greasy ring round the pan! No cloudy film on dishes and glasses! That's why they rinse and dry so sparkling clear—even without wiping!

A Hymonol Product

TIDE'S IN— DIRT'S OUT!

TIDE WORKS EXTRA MIRACLES IN HARD WATER! OCEANS OF SUDS! NO WATER SOFTENERS NEEDED!

Hehr, Warner Wed At Upper Sandusky

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 18—In an afternoon service Sunday Miss Kathleen Ruth Hehr became the bride of Daniel Curtis Warner at St. Paul Lutheran church. The ceremony was read by Rev. Howard F. Yeager, pastor of the church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Hehr, and Mr. Warner's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Warner.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Harry B. Davis was matron of honor for her sister. Miss Mary Jayne Bricely acted as bridesmaid. Little Michael Jacobs, nephew of the bride, carried the rings. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, J. Thomas Warner. Ushers were Robert Warner, brother of the bridegroom, and Harry B. Davis, bother-in-law of the bride.

A half-hour organ program of nuptial music, played by Charles McClain preceded the ceremony, and Mrs. Stuart Hollanshead sang.

The bridegroom graduated from the Sycamore High school with the class of 1937 and from Findlay Business college in '38. He served four and one-half years in the Army. Mr. Warner is now a student in Mechanical Engineering at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

Upper Sandusky Girl Weds Columbus Man

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 18—Miss Edna E. Still, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Still and the late George Still, exchanged vows with David W. Schleich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace J. Schleich of Columbus, in a double ring ceremony Sunday morning at St. Paul Lutheran church with Rev. Howard F. Yeager officiating.

Mrs. Ruth Worline, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Byron Schleich, of North Olmsted, O. Ushers were Claire Stumpfle, Luther Still, the bride's brother, and Miss Rachel Reamsnyder, the bride's cousin. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Luther Still, sister-in-law of the bride, provided nuptial music at the organ. Miss Kay Ruth Worline, niece of the bride, sang.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 22 guests. The bride is a graduate of Upper Sandusky High school and Capital university, Columbus. She was a school teacher in Tiffin and Findlay, and more recently in the fourth grade at the South school building in Upper Sandusky.

Mr. Schleich is a railroad conductor with the New York Central railroad.

Marriage Peformed At Upper Sandusky

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 18—Miss Ann Elizabeth Walton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walton of Upper Sandusky, and Paul R. Mangett of Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mangett, were married Saturday at St. Peter's Catholic church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. William J. McKeown. Attendants were Misses Margaret Ann and Jane Mangett, sisters of the bridegroom, and Izaak B. and John Walton, brothers of the bride. Ushers were Norbert N. Windau and James W. Walton, brother-in-law and brother of the bride. Vocal solos were by Miss Virginia Snyder. Mrs. Ralph Bastel was at the organ.

New Legion Auxiliary Fills Office Vacancies

A special called meeting of the newly organized American Legion auxiliary to Marion GI Post No. 584 was held Tuesday night in the post club rooms to elect a new president and member of the executive board.

Mrs. Elmer Sharpless, who had been chosen to head the auxiliary, was forced to resign due to illness. Mrs. G. R. Messenger, who had been elected to the executive board, was chosen president, and Mrs. William Tuskes was named to fill the position on the executive board.

Installation of all officers and initiations will be held the first night in the post club rooms. Mrs. Clarence Kilworth of Columbus, sixth district president, will be installing officer with a team from Columbus. Guests will be present from the Mt. Gilead post auxiliary, and the men of the GI Post will be guests.

Joan Crawford Wins Top Salary Billing

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 19—Joan Crawford, Hollywood's perennial money-making movie queen, grabbed top billing on Warner Bros. Pictures' salary list last year to the tune of $400,000.

Absent from the list of three top salary earners in the company's annual report filed with the securities and exchange commission was Charles Boyer, who had the 1946 "big three" with $207,500.

Bob Hope was paid $275,000 by Paramount Pictures for last year—just $24,700 more than Bing Crosby was paid by the same firm. Ray (Log Weekend) Milland was third on the Paramount list with $234,166.

DRIVER FINED $10

Kathryn Jones 28, of near Marion pleaded guilty in municipal court today when charged with driving without an operator's license and was fined $10 and costs. She was arrested by city police on Davids street at 2:58 p. m. yesterday.

Couple Repeat Vows In Church Ceremony

Only Half of Approved Vets Take GI Training

Slightly less than half of the World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky who have applied for education or job-training benefits provided by the government actually have entered institutions of training program, officials at the VA's tri-state Branch Office in Columbus, said 581,926 applications for education or job-training have been approved, while 48.5 per cent, or 294,100 veterans, have taken advantage of their benefits.

Education and job-training benefits are available to eligible World War II veterans under provisions of the GI Bill (Public Law 346) and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16).

Of Ohio's 770,000 World War II veterans, 325,686 have been approved for training benefits and 150,953 actually have commenced training courses.

VA Advises Vets On Armed Force Study

Any correspondence or self-teaching courses which veterans may have taken while in the armed forces through the U. S. Armed Forces Institute or University Extension Correspondence Courses, or courses taken under the Army Education Program, do not reduce in any way the amount of education to which they may be entitled under the GI Bill.

Officials at the Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus said that such courses undoubtedly earned veterans definite credits which may be applied to any courses they may take as veterans under the GI Bill.

VA Operates Canteen Service In Hospitals

The Veterans Administration now is operating its own canteen service in each of the nine VA hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky. VA operation of the canteens was authorized last August by congress, which provided a $4,000,000 revolving fund to finance the program. Until taken over by VA, the canteens were operated by private concessionaries under contract with VA.

VA operation of the canteen service was consummated recently with opening of new canteens in the hospitals at Dearborn, Mich., and Outwood, Ky. Other VA hospitals having canteens are those at Ft. Custer, Mich.; Cleveland, Dayton, Brecksville and Chillicothe, O.; and Lexington and Louisville, Ky. VA also will operate a canteen at Ft. Thomas, Ky. when the new medical rehabilitation center there is opened.

VA operates its canteens along lines of the Army PXs and the Navy Ship Stores. Veteran patients may purchase at reasonable prices tobacco products, toilet articles, miscellaneous food items such as sandwiches and light meals sold at snack bars, and the services provided by barber and beauty shops, tailor shops and soda fountains. Special orders and a personal shopping service for items of necessity are provided for bed-ridden patients.

Sales in hospitals are limited to hospitalized veterans, their friends and relatives who visit them, employes and members of their families who live at the stations. Sales to persons who do not reside at the stations are limited to items for consumption or use on the premises.

Profits are kept at a minimum and any that accrue are turned over to the U. S. Treasury. VA's canteen service does not compete with private small businesses in the communities where VA hospitals are located. Congressional authorization restricts sales and provides for constant supervision and inspection to prevent abuses.

VA Rules On Jobless Pay For Student Vets

Veterans who have been attending school under the GI Bill may not use unemployment allowances as summer vacation pay between school terms.

VA officials pointed out that only veterans actively seeking and willing to accept any suitable work may legally receive unemployment allowances. Even then, veterans are not eligible for unemployment pay during any period for which they receive subsistence allowances under the educational and training provisions of the GI Bill.

VA officials said that veterans remaining in school during the summer will continue to receive subsistence allowances, but payments are stopped for those who interrupt their studies during the summer months.

Questions And Answers

Q. I am a widow of a World War II veteran and want to buy a home. Can I obtain a guaranty of a loan from VA?

A. No. The privilege is limited to veterans of World War II.

Q. Can I obtain a guaranteed loan to purchase household furnishings?

A. No.

Q. Can I go to school under the GI Bill while I am taking on-the-job training under the Act?

A. Yes, you can go to school under the GI Bill while you are taking on-the-job training if the school course is determined to be related to the on-job course. The government will pay your tuition.

Q. Will the government pay for tools and other equipment while I am taking on-the-job training under the GI Bill?

A. Yes, if the tools and other equipment are necessary for successful pursuit and completion of the course of training and are required by all trainees.

Q. I have been informed that my pension will be reduced in 60 days. What can I do to prevent this reduction?

A. You may submit additional evidence to show that the reduction is not warranted.

Q. Must I show that I have had experience in business to get a guaranty of loan for business purposes?

A. The law provides "that ability and experience of the veteran, and the conditions under which he proposes to pursue such business or occupation are such that there is a reasonable likelihood he will be successful."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Bert Childers was saying. It's funny how so many of our wartime habits stick with us.

Bert likes plenty of butter on his bread, but even now he can't get over spreading it like it was scarce as hen's teeth. And as a war-worker, Bert used to stick to a temperate glass of beer on time off; and he still holds fast to beer and moderation.

Same way with Bert's wife. She not only has no trouble saving used fats, and waste paper. She's learned from wartime necessity to save every single thing that might possibly be used again.

From where I sit, it's mighty good that so many of these common-sense habits like thrift and moderation have stayed with us. Because they belong in America—along with tolerance, and mutual respect for one another's rights. They're habits that have helped to make this country strong and neighborly and free.

Ewell Blackwell's No-Hitter Sets Reds' Hurler Up As National's Hottest

Boston Braves Felled, 6-0, As Lanky Pitcher Notches Tenth

By The Associated Press

Ewell Blackwell's no hitter against the Boston Braves has established the lanky Cincinnati side arm artist as the No. 1 pitcher in the National league

Half way to his announced goal of 20 wins in his second major league season, the rangy righthander from San Diman, Calif., has etched his name on the honor roll along with the other pitching greats.

Most of the righthanded hitters in the league would name "Blacky" as their toughest problem because his sinking side-wheel delivery is on top of them before they know what is coming. Yet, last night, Boston's Billy Southworth threw a heavily lefthanded batting order against him and the results were the same.

BLACKWELL

Of Blackwell's 10 wins, the last eight have been racked up in succession. He is the only pitcher in the majors to have defeated every other club in the league at least once. The no-hit, no-run 6-0 job against the Braves was his third shutout of the season

First Night Game

It was the lanky Californian's first night game of the season and he and first baseman Babe Young were about all Cincinnati needed. While Blackwell stopped the Braves from getting anywhere at all, Young twice clouted homers over the right field wall after Baumholtz had singled and Hatton walked. Blackwell conceded after it was all over and 18,000 frantic fans had quieted from hoarseness, that he felt "a little tight" when 'Bama Rowell came up, the last man between him and a no-hitter.

"I said to myself, 'If I can just keep it up high enough, I'm in,' and when he swung and missed, oh boy, oh boy!"

Blackwell's no-hitter was the first in the National since Ed Head blanked the Braves for Brooklyn in April, 1946, and the first in the big leagues since Bob Feller's against the Yankees April 30, 1946

2 See 2nd Sack

Blackwell allowed only two Braves to see second base. Tommy Holmes did it in the first, walking and then advancing as Johnny Hopp sacrificed. Phil Masi saw it in the eighth, when Blackie walked him and Sibby Sisti in succession. In all, the Redleg star gave four walks and fanned three.

The loss dropped Boston out of the National league lead, permitting the New York Giants to squeeze out front by a margin of six percentage points on their afternoon 12-8 romp over Pittsburgh

The St. Louis Cardinals continued their headlong dash toward the first division by taking a 8-2 victory from Philadelphia, their seventh straight win. Terry Moore's second homer of the year helped solidify Al Brazle's sixth win.

Dunn Rush Cubs

Brooklyn disposed of Chicago, 8-3 in a day game on the strength of rookie catcher Gil Hodge's first major league homer

The Boston Red Sox kept the folks up late for their second home night game, going 15 innings in a four hour and 20 minute struggle before they subdued the St. Louis Browns, 6-5 their eighth straight victory. Johnny Pesky's fifth single with two out, drove home pinch runner Eddie Pellagrini with the winning score at approximately 12:15 a. m.

Tribe Jumps Back To Fourth After Beating Nats, 9-3

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—The Cleveland Indians were back in fourth place today as the result of their fourth victory in five games

The 9-3 triumph over Washington last night narrowed the gap between the Tribesmen and the league-leading New York Yankees to three and a half games

Two of Washington's pitching aces, Sid Hudson and Mickey Haefner, were clubbed hard by the resurgent Redskins who staged two rallies in the seventh and eighth innings that produced seven runs

Don Black, with assistance from Ed Klieman and Bob Lemon, scattered nine hits with black receiving credit for his fourth win against five defeats. The loss was charged to Hudson. Until the seventh, when a combination of the heat and exertions in the field and on the bases caused Black to weaken, the Nats' only tally was an unearned one made possible in the third when Black failed to cover first base on a grounder

The Cleveland attack was paced by Hank Edwards, who rapped three singles in four times at bat, Jim Hegan, who stroked a double and two singles and Ken Keltner who delivered two doubles

Rookie Bryan Stephens hurls for the Indians against the Nats' Early Wynn in the series finale today

NEW IRISH ATHLETIC FIELD READY AUG. 20

Football Practice To Break New Grounds In.

The recently completed St. Mary athletic field will first be used for the start of St. Mary football practice Aug. 20, Gene Fetter, St. Mary athletic director has announced

Dimensions of the feild are approximately 400 feet by 300 feet. Chief sports which will be followed there are football, baseball and softball.

It is impossible to open the field now as it has just been seeded

It is bounded by a steel fence and a steel backstop has been erected for baseball and softball. Money for the fence was raised through a drive which Gene Fetter and Ed Neidig headed.

The Very Rev. Father William J. Spickerman, St. Mary pastor, directed the undertaking.

The field is bounded by Ballentine avenue, Farming street, and Mark street.

Richwood Horse In Long-Shot Win

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., June 19—Another $1,200 was added today to the earnings of Butler, speedy brown horse owned by the Newport stock farms of Plainfield, N. J., following his easy victories last night in both heats of a 24-class trot in the Grand Circuit meeting at Ft. Miami raceway

Butler was piloted to a lopsided triumph in the first heat by youthful Del Cameron, who reined him in front all the way in the second half of the race

The long-shot players were rewarded in the first dash, a 29-class pace when Tara Scott copped the event to return $20 for $2. The brown mare was owned and driven by George Battles of Richwood, O.

Speeding around a one-mile 19-class trot in 2:08.4, Tryscott took a $1,500 purse in a photo-finish with High Volo and Alexandria. Both Tryscott and High Volo were field horses, with Alexandria billed as the star of Saunders Mills, Inc

LEADS P.G.A. GOLFERS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 19—Clarence Doser, stocky little Hartsdale, N. Y., par buster who has been a professional golfer more than half his 38 years, led a star-spangled field into the final 18-hole qualifying round of the national P.G.A. championship today. With a ringing first-round 34-33—67, five under par, he headed the parade of 138 pros. Claude Harmon and Jimmy Demaret were one stroke back

First baseman Rudy York of the Boston Red Sox takes motion pictures for home showings as a hobby.

Impressive List of Drivers To Appear in Marion Races

The Little Grand Circuit harness races at the half-mile fairground oval July 1-10 will again post an impressive list of entries and drivers

Wayne "Curley" Smart, winner, with Ensign Hanover, of the Little Brown Jug pacing classic at Delaware last fall, will drive several entries in this meet.

He drives entries of Walter Michel of Bucyrus and Joe Neville of Delaware which are trained at his Delaware stables.

Tallahassee, three-year-old pacer carries Smart's hopes of a second Little Brown Jug win, will be driven by him in the three-year-old $1,500 stake pace Saturday, July 5.

To Drive Others

Other steeds which will be Smart-driven are Scotch Mary, a good winner as a three-year-old last year, entered in the $3,000 14 class pacing derby July 12. Thunderbird in the 19 pace stake. Jimmy Hal in the two-year-old pace stake, Scotch Dillon in the 24 trot stake, and Prim Hanover in the three-year-old trot stake

He also is expected to drive in the overnight class events

Yesterday Smart visited with Frank Foster, president of the Marion Trotting association, and looked over the local track. He said he will drive in the Toledo Grand Circuit races before coming to Marion. After the Marion meet he will go to Roosevelt Raceway in Long Island, N. Y.

WAYNE (CURLY) SMART
To Drive Sulkies Here

Other Headliners

A number of other headliners will mount sulkies for the Marion event.

Foy Funderburg of Springfield, Ill., top driver at Santa Anita, Calif., this year, will have several entries as will Ed Dunwoody of Newark, Gabe Carnall of Hanover, O., Johnny Caton of Columbus, whose father raced horses for the czar of Russia, Don Miller of Jackson, Mich. Jake Mahoney, driver for Saunders Mills stables of Toledo, who is just back from the coast. Bob Vally and Eddie Cobb of Washington C. H., George Hunter of Pinehurst, N. C., C. I. Shilling of Columbus, James Doyle of Toledo, Bob Mason of Mt. Vernon, Walter Dispannette of Muncie Ind., Dave Harvey of Detroit, Herman Ross of Dayton, Byron Perry of Richwood, and Louis Huber Sr. of Cincinnati.

4 Tents Needed

Mr. Foster reports that besides the two new stables being erected at the fairgrounds it will be necessary to pitch four tents to handle the record number of horses which will race here.

All entries in the stake races have been made but, as it is not necessary for a horse to be entered in the class races until two nights before they are run, the total number that will appear here can only be estimated

At present owners are being discouraged from sending their horses to Marion. Mr. Foster said Work at the ground would be hampered should too many arrive.

PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK
Sports Editor

Burt Shotton, 62-year-old Brooklyn Dodger manager, says the greatest play he ever saw happened in 1942 while he was coaching the Cleveland Indians.

SHOTTON
Dodgers

"We opened up a series in Detroit and little Roy Weatherly was in center field for the Indians," recalls only National league manager who pilots from the bench in civilian clothes.

"I don't remember who was at bat. Maybe it was Rudy York. But anyway Weatherly, who wasn't the best fielder in the game but was mighty fast, tore across the outfield and jumped for the ball in the air. He was clear off the ground when he made the catch and when he crashed to the grass he still held the ball.

"It was the only time I had seen that play and I'll always remember it because it was a screaming line drive and the Cleveland left fielder had no chance for it."

All-Star Lineup Nearly Cinched With Boudreau Leading in Total Fan Ballots

By The United Press

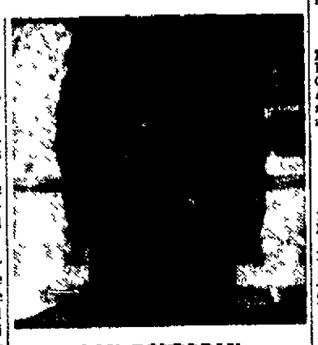
CHICAGO, June 19—With the closing date still one week off, most of the positions in the All-Star baseball game appeared to be clinched already today.

The All-Star poll closes next Thursday at midnight. Players selected by the fans for stellar National and American league teams will stage the annual All-Star battle here at Wrigley field July 8

The only close race for a position was for third base on the National league team where Whitey Kurowski of St. Louis and Bob Elliott of Boston have passed the leadership back and forth for several days

Today's tabulation gave Kurowski the lead with 71,428 to Elliott's 67,624

A close race also was being run for the honor of gathering the greatest number of votes in the poll. Lou Boudreau, shortstop for the Cleveland Indians, was the current leader for most popular player. He held 124,364 votes to 123,142 for Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees and 121,408 for Ted Williams of Boston.



LOU BOUDREAU

ROSEBERRY WINS 8TH CLASS "C" START

Notches 8-4 Triumph After Dropping One, 5-3.

Joe Roseberry, Marion hurler won his eighth game for the Winston-Salem Cardinals of the class C Carolina league Sunday by Defeating Danville 8-4

Joe lost his first game of the season June 10 by a score of 5-3

He allowed Danville only four hits, one of which was a triple that followed two walks. Walter Lammers former Marion third-baseman went hitless and made two errors in the game, according to the Winston-Salem Journal.

The published averages of the Carolina league show Roseberry batting .351 with 13 hits in 37 times at bat.

Leo Perini, former Marion outfielder has an average of .330 and Lammers is batting .312 including games of June 9

Roses Drop Cubs, 12-6; Rosin To Hurl Muncie Tilt Tonight

By DON C. BURTON

The failure of the Marion Cubs to hit Pete Swain with men on the bases combined with unsteady fielding behind "Jitts" Lawrence gave the Bruins a 12-6 defeat at the hands of the Richmond Roses at Lincoln park last night before a crowd of 1,693 fans

The Cubs got only five hits, four in the first two innings off fast-baller Swain, who walked 16 men and struckout 10. Manager Burbrink went down on strikes twice with men in scoring position. Jim Forbes failed to get credit for a time at bat as he walked in all five appearances at the plate

Muncie Here Tonight

Tonight the Muncie Packers will be guests of the Cubs at Lincoln park in a single game with Bill Rosin slated to hurl for Marion. Rosin has a record of six wins and two losses. He shutout the Packers Saturday night 3-0 at Muncie

The Cubs grabbed a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, but a pair of three-run homers accounted chiefly for the Richmond victory. The first of the four-baggers was hit by Manager Rex Carr with two aboard in the fifth and the other, by first sacker Johnson in the seventh, sealed Marion's doom.

Trio of Runs

Marion scored in the first on a walk to Hollingshead and hits by Smith and Burbrink. A trio of runs in the second came on walks to Forbes, Lawrence and Hollingshead and a double by John Smith, who got three of the Cubs' five hits, and a single by Bobzean

Although the Cubs had men on base with walks in every inning except the eighth they failed to score again until the ninth. In the final session Smith led off with a double and remained there as Bobzean went out pitcher to first. After Shuford walked Burbrink flied to right to plate Smith. Then Rasmussen, Nelson and Forbes walked to force in the last run, right fielder Mel Wiebel came in to bat for Lawrence and

Upper Sandusky C. of C. Sells Booster Shares

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 19—Members of the Chamber of Commerce are selling shares of the recently incorporated Upper Sandusky Industries. The firm was incorporated to interest industries in coming to Upper Sandusky. First project will be construction of a building to house a Mansfield concern which has expressed a desire to locate in Upper Sandusky. Shares are selling at $25 apiece.

A meeting of stockholders will be held tonight at the Evergreens following the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Directors will be elected and officers of the permanent organization will be chosen by the directors in a meeting to follow their election.

"Takes Part in Five Man Battle Royal Tonight"

Duke Keomuka the clever Jap will be one of the five men who will enter the ring tonight to take part in the battle royal at the Marion Armory. The Duke will have help for Billy Fox, the Cleveland boy who made Gunnery Sargeant in the Marines, will be the second man named. Ali Pasha and Dutch Schultz will make up the bad men for both are very rough and have taken part in some of the wildest matches seen here. A new boy from Springfield, Mo., will make the fifth. His name is Eddie Williams and he is said to be one of the fastest men to come from the show me state. These five men battle royals have always proved very popular with the local fans and from the lineup of this program this should be one of the best. A 45 and a 90-minute match will follow the battle royal, both two out of three falls. No advance in prices. Fritz Barlow and Bill Monroe meet in the ten-minute prelim at 8:30. Call 2745 after 6 o'clock for your best ringside.—Adv.

Rained-Out Chisox Play Pinochle, Slam Weather and Talk Up AL Pennant Race

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Ted Lyons, the genial manager of the Chicago White Sox, stripped off the glasses through which he had been looking at his pinochle hand and tossed them against his teeth as he considered the American league pennant race.

"The New York Yankees look like the best," Lyons said and his pinochle partners, Coaches Urban (Red) Faber and Buster Mills, replied silent agreement without looking up from their hands.

The White Sox brain trust was waxing after rain caused cancellation of their date at Yankee stadium and the weather was coming in for as much cussing as the cards.

"Yankees Top Club"

"Yes," continued Lyons, "right now the Yankees are the top club. Of course if this weather ever comes around and we get hot weather Detroit is going to be tough with that pitching staff."

Silence settled down again as Lyons made his bid under a cloud of cigar smoke and then Ted burst out:

"The Boston Red Sox are going to have plenty of trouble, too. Their pitching looks awfully weak. Why Dave Ferriss has only pitched a couple of good games.

"But then our pitching has been bad, too. The boys are wild. It's this weather, not getting enough work."

Hasn't Given Up

The square-cut Mills went down on a bid, chewing savagely on a cigar, as Lyons asserted that he hadn't give up on the White Sox even though they are in seventh place, seven games off the pace.

"With luck we'd be only three games out," he said. "But we've had so many injuries. Why at one time we had 10 men out."

He tolled them off on his stubby fingers: pitchers Earl Caldwell, Red Ruffing and Johnny Rigney; catchers Mike Tresh and George Dickey; second baseman Cass Michaels; third baseman Floyd Baker, and outfielders Ralph Hodgin, John Wallaesa and Taft Wright.

"Yes, it has been tough," Lyons said suddenly, holding a card poised to indicate that his mind was more on baseball than on the card game. "We had so many men out I had to play an outfielder on third base in one series."

The game rolled along and Mills blurted suddenly:

Appling for Record

"Say, Theodore, Appling has a chance for a record, doesn't he?"

"Yes," Lyons said. "Luke can set a new American league record for games played at shortstop this year and if he plays another year and a half he might break Honus Wagner's record.

"And I don't see what can stop him," Lyons added. "He sure looks great."

Making a high bid, Lyons chuckled:

"That doesn't surprise me half as much as the Athletics. Say, now, that's a lot better ball club than most people think. They have very good pitching; a good defense and pretty fair hitting. It's a good ball club. And that Ferris Fain is a good rookie, too."

complete agreement and the game

Mills and Faber again nodded went on as dusk settled in the hotel suite. And as the fortunes of the game changed the most frequent comment was:

"Darn this weather!"

Columbus Woman Denied Missing Mate's Insurance

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 19 — A federal court jury refused yesterday to give Mrs. Elizabeth Malin of Columbus, O., $5,000 in life insurance benefits on her husband, Chester Malin, who disappeared 10 years ago while under indictment on a charge of embezzlement from an estate.

Mrs. Malin contended since Malin had not been heard from for more than seven years he must be presumed dead. She filed suit against the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. for the face value of two policies.

The company argued that since Malin was under indictment, he had good reason not to be heard from and thus could not be presumed to be dead.

The jury received the case late Tuesday after nearly two days of arguments.

Zanesville Still Finds OSL Foes Ducks on Pond

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's Dodgers continued to romp at will through the Ohio State league opposition as a hot free-for-all for second place continued today.

Newark's Browns won an easy 8-1 victory over the Springfield Giants. Dayton was nosed out by the league-leading Dodgers, 4-3, in the last of the ninth.

Johnny Batt poled a homer for Newark to lead the Brown's victory attack.

In the circuit's only doubleheader, seventh place Muncie took the seven-inning opener, 7-1, then lost the nightcap, 4-3, to last-place Lima.

Herbert Blames Religious Decline for World's Ills

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 19 — The cause for most of the world's ills, says Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, is a "deviation from basic religious concept" by persons thinking "too much of material happiness."

In an address at the 61st annual commencement of John Carroll university yesterday, Gov. Herbert asserted the founders of this country made no attempt to claim the right to happiness," but simply the "pursuit of happiness."

Urging the graduates to take part in solving problems of America and the world "humbly, earnestly, intelligently and with sublime faith in divine guidance," he said:

"I hope you will look forward to your productive years as a great aventure, always striving to cure the acknowledged faults in our own system of government • • • proving to the rest of the world that this government of ours can restore a faith in world progress far beyond that which any totalitarian system can offer."

Employe Sues Erie For $50,000 Damage

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 19—Stephen Rinko, 66, of Youngstown, filed a $50,000 damage suit in federal court today against the Cleveland office of Erie railroad.

Rinko, in his petition, claims he injured a finger on his left hand while operating a power saw Nov. 26, 1946 and as a result of the injury the finger had to be amputated.

He charges the railroad with failure to provide ample protection on the saw. Rinko also claims his left hand now is useless as a result of the injury.

WORKSHOP ON TEACHING HANDICAPPED PUPILS SET

5-Day Session To Open at Ohio State Monday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, June 19—A five-day special education workshop opening Monday on the Ohio State university campus will examine methods and problems of teaching Ohio's handicapped children.

Approximately 200 Ohio teachers, school principals and superintendents were expected to attend discussions and witness demonstrations of new teaching techniques.

The problems confronting Ohio's 30,000 slow-learning school children will receive attention at a Tuesday night meeting at which P. O. Wagner of the division of special education, Ohio department of education, will preside. Dr. Francis Lord of Michigan State Normal college will lead a panel discussion on "curriculum planning for slow-learning children."

Instructional methods designed for the crippled, deaf and hard-of-hearing, blind and partially-sighted, speech defectives and behavior problems will be discussed at other meetings.

Damage Suit Filed

Joe Cafagno has filed a petition in common pleas court seeking $5,000 damages from the Pollak Steel Co. The plaintiff claims he was employed by the company from April 14, 1934, to Aug. 12, 1946, and that the company wrongfully discharged him. He claims that he has since sought employment at the plant and been refused a job. He also claims that his employment record states incorrectly that he quit work voluntarily. Hugh Kirkwood Jr. is attorney for the plaintiff.

Motion Overruled

Judge Paul D. Smith of common pleas court has overruled a motion for a new trial in the case of William Lawrence against the New York Central railroad. The court had earlier ordered the railroad to open the crossing which the plaintiff claims is his only entrance to property divided by the railroad right-of-way. The railroad was also ordered to pay $100 damages to the plaintiff. John Clark is attorney for the plaintiff. The motion for a new trial was brought by Carhart and Carhart representing the railroad.

You Have To Be Nearsighted To Lose 40 B-29's—WAA Did

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19—It takes an exceedingly near-sighted fellow to mislay a B-29.

When he overlooks 40 of these aerial behemoths parked in the sunshine on a field in Arizona he either wears smoked glasses, with blinders attached, or he works for the poor old war assets administration.

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan had a pink rose in his lapel when he opened his inquiry into the 5,000 odd (odd is a good word) surplus bombers the WAA peddled to a road contractor from Jefferson City, Mo. The rose wilted and so was the senator before he discovered how an airplane counter can look at a four-motored plane and not see it.

The mighty planes were parked wing to wing as far as the eye could see on a level stretch of desert near Kingman, Ariz. The idea was to sell 'em for junk (de luxe junk, as we'll discover in a minute). So the WAA boys strolled down the ranks of airplanes, counting same.

4 Times, 4 Answers

Four times they counted the planes and four times they sent a different answer to Washington, testified Col. John H. Carey, the WAA's head airplane salesman. He shuffled the papers and decided the most likely number was 5,483. So he sold that number of ships to Martin Wunderlich, the portly road builder from Missouri, for $2,789,999.

Wunderlich was incensed. The papers he got indicated that he bought 5,343 airplanes. He wanted them.

The boys ordered another count. They came up with 5,483 bombers, 40 more than WAA thought it sold, or 60 less than Wunderlich thought he bought. And another thing, said Wunderlich, a sandy-haired individual with a turned up nose, a red face, and a peculiarly vivid brown suit of the shade the ladies call snuff. About the gasoline.

It's his.

"Huh?" asked Sen. Ferguson.

Well sir, it turned out that the tanks of the planes contained lots of the best quality of aviation gasoline when he bought 'em. It added up to about 2,000,000 gallons, which cost the Army Air Forces around $800,000.

The WAA didn't know about the gasoline; when it did learn this precious fluid was aboard the junked planes, Frank Creedon the deputy administrator (who later became housing administrator) ordered it sold. His underlings ignored him. And a good thing they did, too, said Wunderlich. When he bought those planes, he said he also bought the gas in the tanks.

So he started melting down the airplanes, stacking away the parts that could be used again, and getting ready to sell the stuff to any customers who might possibly want it.

Sells Back to Army

His best patron, it developed was the Army Air Force which bought from him (through intermediaries) parts from the same planes it had sold him. The army claims this was a good deal; Sen. Ferguson will ask some more questions later about that.

"And did you sell any parts to any foreign governments?" the senator asked.

"Well, I think perhaps we did," Wunderlich said. "We sold some motors to Brazil. Or maybe it was to the Argentine."

"Don't you know?" Sen. Ferguson insisted.

"Not rightly, I don't," Wunderlich replied.

It was at this juncture that the Ferguson rose-bud gave up the fight to live.

MASONIC COUNCIL OFFICERS ELECTED

George O. Lockwood Chosen To Serve as Master.

George O. Lockwood of 230 West Columbia street, was elected to serve as master of Marion Council No. 22, R. and S. M., at the annual meeting of the body in the Masonic Temple Wednesday night.

Elected to serve with him were: Edwin P. King, deputy master; Norris D. Hill of Caledonia, principal conductor of work; Russell C. Snare, treasurer; Harold W. Hall, recorder; Robert O. Grove, captain of the guard; Anson E. Pickerel, conductor of council; William E. Thomas, steward; Otto J. Ricker, sentinel; and B. Harry Gast, Trustee for three years.

The officers were installed by Ralph E. Carhart, as grand master, and Kenneth E. Fields, as grand marshal.

Following the installation Mr. Lockwood announced the following appointments: John T. Gruber, chaplain; John E. Beer, marshal; William Lobenwein, pianist; Kela N. Veley, Gibilties captain; Russell C. Snare, John T. Gruber, Robert O. Grove, welfare committee; Harold J. Grigsby, Kenneth E. Fields and Floyd D. Schaffner, finance committee.

Mr. Lockwood has served as commander of Marion Commandery No. 36 Knights Templar and as high priest of Marion Chapter No. 62, Royal Arch Masons. He is also a member of Marion Lodge No. 70, and of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of the Valley of Columbus.

Following the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room. The Council will recess during July and August and resume meetings on Sept. 17.

reared in Marion he told police he had no residence here.

The plant, owned by George Alber of 484 South State street, now is being rebuilt. The original building, of frame and sheet iron construction, was approximately 125 by 200 feet in dimensions.

Besides the building the fire destroyed all equipment, machinery, office records, chemicals used in compounding fertilizers, and about 80,000 unusual paper bags.

Mr. Alber established the business in 1938. About 20 years ago he was a star end on the Ohio State university football team.

Postcard - Penning Ohio Jail Fugitive Finally Recaptured

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 19—"Pal Homer" has been recaptured.

Sheriff Earl Brandel of Scioto county said today 18-year-old Homer Clay of Ironton, who escaped from Scioto county jail last March while under indictment for breaking and entering, was taken into custody last night at Springfield.

Clay, said Sheriff Brandel, endeared himself to county and city officers during his splurge of freedom by writing postcards signed "Pal Homer."

The cards generally promised the Ironton man would give himself up and told about how he almost did but "got cold feet." They were addressed to the sheriff, his chief deputy, Burl Justice, to Police Detective John Smith and several patrolmen.

The last card, from Cleveland, said Clay was heading for California.

Brandel said Clay would be returned today to the jail from which he escaped.

Clay, said the sheriff, was captured because he tried to get a job with a street carnival. The first time the varnival head turned him down, but on prompting from Deputy Justice he gave Clay a job the second attempt in Springfield, then called the police.

The Ironton man was indicted in connection with the theft Dec. 19, 1946, of $2,350 in government bonds and $175 in cash from the safe of the Norfolk and Western freight station in suburban Sciotoville. His escape was made March 28 with four other prisoners.

REPORTS GIVEN ON RED CROSS

Marion County Chapter Hears Accounts of National Convention.

Reports on the national Red Cross convention held June 9-12 at Cleveland were given when the Marion County chapter met for its monthly business and luncheon session Wednesday at Hotel Harding. Homer Cole, chairman, presided for the meeting, and the newly elected chairman, Charlton Myers, will take over in July.

Attending the convention from the chapter were Mr. Myers, Mrs. W. K. Hamor, Mrs. J. H. Harmon adn Miss Lillian Plack. Also attending from the Junior Red Cross were Jean Hinton, Jill Pfuchel and Donald Klingle. The 1948 convention will be held June 20-24 in San Francisco, Calif.

In the report on water safety given by T. E. Brownlee, chairman, it was announced that Miss Helen Beal of 952 East Church street left Wednesday to represent the Marion chapter at the National Aquatic School which opens today at LaGrange, Ind., to continue through June 29. This is Miss Beal's second year at the National Aquatic school. Upon her return, she will assist in conductiong the water safety classes July 14-25 at Crystal Lake.

Report on Nutrition

Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, chairman of nutrition, reported that Mrs. Marion Clark, one of the nutrition instructors, is planning to attend a Nutrition Workshop at State College, Pa., July 7-18, being sponsored by the American Red Cross Nutritian Service, and Pennsylvania State College.

For the home nursing report for May, an announcement was made that 25 pupils of a home economics class at Edison Junior High school completed a home nursing course before school was dismissed. At a special meeting each was presented with a certificate by Mrs. H. W. Taber, and a home nursing pin by Mrs. W. K. Hamor, Junior Red Cross chairman.

Junior Red Cross Reports

In May, the last meeting of the year for the city-county council of Junior Red Cross was held and annual reports from the respective schools were given. The reports showed a 100 per cent enrollment of all city and county schools along with a number of other things, and that $121.32 has been contributed for the National Children's Fund.

In the home service report for May, 83 cases were reported continued to May, with 24 cases taken in during the month, leaving a total number of 107 cases open during the month. Thirty-nine of these were closed, which left 68 continued to June.

Under volunteer special services of which Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer, is chairman, eight members of the staff assistance corps volunteered 40½ hours of service assisting at the office and at the visitors' desk at City hospital; eight home service corps members volunteered 188 hours of service in May; five Gray Ladies with the hospital and recreation corps volunteered 43 hours of service assisting at City hospital; one motor corps member volunteered two hours of service; four members of the canteen corps volunteered nine hours of service; and in production, 23 workers volunteered 140 hours of service sewing and assisting at the production room, 45 garments were completed for foreign relief, and eight workers volunteered 433 hours of service in knitting.

Eagles Going To State Convention

Officers and members of Marion Aerie of Eagles will be delegates to the state Eagles convention in Columbus this weekend. They are to leave tonight. Announcement of final plans for attending was made at the weekly meeting Wednesday night.

Four applications for membership were read. Initiation will be held emblem day, July 2.

Because of the delegation's Columbus visit, there will be no dance at Eagles hall Saturday night.

The lodges band, directed by Oscar Koehler, will play at the convention, giving concerts Saturday and Sunday nights at the Neil House.

A Marion quartet will compete for the honor of being sent to the national convention. It is composed of J. C. McAndrews, Warren Augenstine, Robert Heimlich, and C. C. Ward. Paul Malloy will act as accompanist.

Delegates to the convention are Harry Mounts, Omer Williams, Gene Williams, P. H. Neidig, John Duffy, Charles A. Way, Bertrum Gilmore, Harold Haughn, and William Woessner.

A stag smoker, arranged by Samuel McDoogle, followed the meeting. A fish fry for members and prospective members July 27 is planned.

Circle No. 1 of the First Evangelical United Brethren church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Beckie Jones of 495 West Columbia street, with Mrs. Daisy Hoffman, Mrs. Ollie Shupp, Mrs. Anna Lines and Mrs. Anna Shonk as assistant hostesses. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Cloe Weaver and the Lord's Prayer was given by the group. Roll call was answered with a "favorite dish."

For the program hour, several solos were presented by Miss Mary Margaret Williams and contest honors were won by Miss Virginia Kelly, Mrs. Clara Hildreth, Mrs. Lucile Douce and Mrs. Kittie Hogan. Mrs. Ruby Roebuck, a recent bride, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower, with decorations carried out in blue and white.

Guests were Mrs. Josie Roebuck, Mrs. Lucile Douce, Mrs. Mahala Knowlton, Mrs. Harry Fowler, Miss Virginia Kelly, Mrs. Clara Hildreth, Mrs. Lena Williams, Miss Mary Margaret Williams, Wayne Fogle and Clarence Jones.

BOY SCOUTS TO LAY PLANS FOR PROGRAM

Semi-Annual Session Set at Camp Owens.

Semi-annual weekend plan-o-ree of the Boy Scouts and scouters in the Marion district will be held Saturday and Sunday at Camp John A. Owens and plans for all Scout activities for the last half of the year will be made. For the first time the Boy Scouts themselves will help with the planning.

Between three hundred and five hundred are expected to participate. Scout and cub masters have cancelled their regular June meetings and will attend the plan-o-ree instead.

Scouts and scouters who will participate in the weekend session will go to the camp Saturday about 5 p. m. when a camp meal will be prepared under the direction of L. Everly. During the evening session Saturday a camp course will be given. On Sunday church services will be held at the camp with Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church, conducting. Projects will be discussed during the afternoon. A basket lunch will be served after the session closes.

The following scouters in charge of the various programs include: William Spurr, leadership training; Loy Rhoads, camp staff organization; Dale Weston assisted by Eugene White, program planning; Ted Brownlee, assisted by Nelson Irvin, health safety; Elmer McAfee, first aid.

Wesley Woman's Bible Class Holds Meeting

The Women's Bible class of Wesley Methodist church met Tuesday night at the church with Mrs. Cora Daymude in charge. A song, "God's Way," by the group opened the meeting, and devotions were conducted by Mrs. Fred Upton and Mrs. Hannah Clark. A contribution of $15 was voted to the church coal fund.

Mrs. John Monk was in charge of the following program: vocal solo, "In the Light of Love," by Miss Phyllis Arthur; reading by Mrs. Effie McCrery; and a poem, written by Mrs. Delia Boulton, read by Mrs. Edith Bush. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ocie Lattimore and Mrs. R. G. Smallwood.

In taste, sake, the national beverage of Japan, resembles madeira or sherry wine. It is made from fermented rice.

Grandmother of Slain Children Asks Bodies

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., June 19—Mrs. W. H. Gay of Kershaw, S. C., maternal grandmother of Peggy Russell, 11, and John Russell, 7, whose father confessed bludgeoning them to death here early yesterday, asked circuit court today for custody of the bodies for burial in Kershaw.

Mrs. Gay talked last night with the father, 59-year-old Chris Russell. Detective Sergeant John L. Deas said Russell readily admitted killing his two children with a baseball bat and shooting two of his neighbors when they sought to have the children placed in a home because he was an "unfit father."

Mrs. Gay declared Russell refused to give her permission to make funeral arrangements. She was accompanied here by her son, H. L. Gay, 22, uncle of the slain children.

The bodies of the two children, with skulls crushed, remained at a funeral home. State Investigator, I. Ray Mills said there was evidence that Russell, a native of Greece, might also have used some sharp instrument besides little Johnny's baseball bat to accomplish the slaying.

MARKET ENJOYS ANOTHER RALLY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 19—The stock market enjoyed another noon rally today with gains extending to more than 2 points before receding somewhat.

Motors, buoyant from the opening, gave leadership to the upturn which also embraced steels, rubbers and some rails. Activity quickened on the rise as it has done in recent sessions. Gains of fractions to more than a point were well distributed near the fourth hour.

American Telephone slipped below 150 to a new 1947 low before recovering partially. Another subsidiary, Southwestern Bell Telephone, reported first quarter net income below that of a year ago.

Prominent on the upswing were Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Rubber, United Fruit, Pepsi-Cola (at a new high), International Paper, International Harvester, Southern Railway, Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific, Standard Oil (N.J.), Johns-Manville, Electric Power and Light and Phelps Dodge.

May War Fraud Trial Defense Rests Case

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—The defense rested its case today in the May-Garsson war fraud trial and lost a motion for a delay in continuation of the case.

Charles J. Margiotti, chief defense attorney, asked for a suspension until a key witness, Joseph F. Freeman, recovers from a heart attack.

But Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut directed that the case should proceed with the final few witnesses the prosecution wants to call in rebuttal.

TRAIN RIDER FINED

Robert Alvin McKeague, 38, of Los Angeles, Calif., pleaded guilty in municipal court today when charged with train riding and was fined $10 and costs. He was arrested by Erie police at 10 p. m. yesterday in the Erie yards.

Programs on the Air

America's Town Meeting on the air when the weekly radio forum is broadcast over ABC from a DC-6 American Airlines plane cruising over Los Angeles to point up the philosophical question which will be under discussion on the program July 3 at 7:30 p. m.—"Has 20th Century Civilization Improved Mankind?" Philosopher Lin Yutang, member of the oldest surviving civilization, Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory and former president of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and Lewis Browne, author and lecturer, will participate in the first forum broadcast held over the air, in the air. A fourth speaker will be announced later.

To demonstrate further the technical progress of the 20th century, two of the speakers, those holding the negative position—Lin Yutang and Shapley—will broadcast from the ground in a relay discussion from New York to the plane flying over Los Angeles. Brown, author of "Stranger Than Fiction," the fourth speaker and the audience participating on the program will be in the 54-passenger plane.

TRUMAN

sentiment for a veto was found in replies from the west, New York and Pennsylvania.

May Lose New York

One report from New York, he said, contended that unless there were a veto the Democrats would lose that highly important state in the 1948 election.

The south generally urged that Mr. Truman sign the measure, which imposes new legal curbs on some organized labor activities.

The result sof the party survey have been submitted to presidential counsel Clark M. Clifford for relay to the President.

Clifford has been working with presidential assistant John R. Steelman in rounding up the opinions of all cabinet members, congressional leaders and others for a composite recommendation.

This study, together with an analysis of the effects of each provision of the measure, has been laid on Mr. Truman's desk for the final decision.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I HAD been expecting Philip Veritzen's demand to see Mary, yet when his ultimatum came I felt as if a bomb had dug a crater and deposited me in it.

For a second or two I could not speak, and I was glad indeed to hear Dicky's voice in calm, measured speech.

"I should think there could be but one answer to that," he said. "Katharine is with Mary, isn't she?" He turned to me.

"Yes, she is," I breathed.

"Then why not call her out and find out if Mary can be seen?" he asked.

"But Mary doesn't—" I began, and stopped, conscious that I had distinctly "put my foot" into the situation, and Philip Veritzen's portentous frown told me how deep it had gone.

"I have been very patient with Mary," he said. "I have forgiven her for the atrocious insult to me which she perpetrated by leaving the sanitarium without leave. I have done everything in my power to aid her. I am not accustomed to beg for the pleasure of an interview. In this case, I think I am in a position to demand one. But, may I ask why she does not wish to see me?"

"Can't you imagine, Phil, that in her extremely nervous state she is afraid to see you, because she knows how atrociously she has treated you? She is too deeply ashamed even to look at you, I'll warrant."

Thanked Providence

That was Dicky, and I thanked Providence for him.

"I hope she feels that way," Mary's father-in-law said, and I saw that his rancor against her was rising again. I knew that something drastic would have to be done, and immediately, if we did not wish to be treated to one of the "royal rages" of the former ruling family of Transvania.

"Philip," I said, "I am wholly at fault in this. I should have told you the truth as soon as you came in the door. But I hoped I could convince you it was unwise to see Mary without telling you what she has done."

"What has she done now?" he demanded.

"For one thing, she has probably saved Noel's reason," I said.

The resentment faded from his eyes, and blank bewilderment came into them.

"What on earth do you mean?" he asked. "I know that Noel has been terribly distraught, but the news that his wife was better has made him comparatively sane again."

"I mean," I said soberly, "that Mary, ill as she is, and so near the border line of sanity that the slightest push will send her over, put on one of the cleverest acts of her career with Noel. She made him believe that she is much better, when, in reality, her improvement is infinitesimal, and she told him that the one way he could help her would be to go about his work as usual.

"It was one of the most marvelous bits of acting I have ever seen," I went on hotly. "If you could have seen how exhausted she was after Noel left, I am sure you would have pitied her deeply instead of censuring her."

Drained of Color

Philip Veritzen's face had been flushed and paling alternately all the while I was talking. But when I finished it was drained of color.

"I—I—do wish you had told me this when I first came in," he said, and I refrained from reminding him that it was very hard to tell him anything when he was mounted in the conversational saddle.

"I—I am deeply shocked by this," he said, "and—and I wish you would tell Mary—if you think best—how grateful I am to her for easing Noel's mind. Of course I shall not press my demand to see her. But is there no improvement in her condition?"

"In her physical condition, yes," I told him. "In her mental condition, very little, although she does seem a trifle less desperate. But do believe me, Phil, as soon as she is able, she will see you."

"She doesn't see me, you know," Dicky said, "except for a wave of my hand from the doorway."

And then Philip Veritzen went heavily away, and Dicky grinned at me.

"Lion tamer!" he gibed, and then sobered.

"What's happened!" he asked anxiously.

AND THAT REMINDS ME OF THE WAITER AT A LUNCH COUNTER WHO SAW A CUSTOMER COME IN WEARING A CARROT BEHIND HIS EAR
FOR SEVENTEEN CONSECUTIVE DAYS THIS MAN APPEARED WITH A CARROT BEHIND HIS EAR, THEN ON THE EIGHTEENTH DAY HE SHOWED UP WEARING A BANANA BEHIND HIS EAR
THE WAITER COULDN'T STAND IT ANY LONGER. "WHAT'S THE IDEA OF WEARING A BANANA BEHIND YOUR EAR?" HE DEMANDED. "COULDN'T FIND NO CARROT TODAY," EXPLAINED THE CUSTOMER
BUT, ALBERT, I DON'T UNDERSTAND WHY HE WORE A CARROT BEHIND HIS EAR

Cooper Post Meets At Legion Dugout

An all-day meeting of Cooper Corp. No. 194, Women's Relief Corps was held Tuesday at the Dugout. A dinner served at noon honored members whose birthdays fall in April, May or June. Those honored were Mrs. Matilda Crissenger, Mrs. Louise Watson, Mrs. Clara Harden, Mrs. Betty Krause, Mrs. Edna Seiter, Mrs. Hazel Schiller and Mrs. F. Wheeler.

The table, centered with a blue and pink birthday cake, was decorated with bouquets of red roses and peonies. Blue, pink and green was the color scheme used. Arrangements for the quarterly party were in charge of Mrs. Maude Scheifler.

During the business meeting which followed reports of the recent convention at Columbus were given by Mrs. Louise Watson, alternate delegate, and Mrs. Blanche Hartpence president, who attended. Plans were made for a picnic to be held in August at the home of Mrs. Scheifler of 557 Cherry street. The next regular meeting will be July 1.
